

DELPHIAN 1970

Diane,

you Crazzy, Kookie, Dumb and sweet!
(How about 'that combination'?!?)
With all of our squabbles and fights
we still have remained friends.
Through out the year you have put up with me!! (That takes a lot of doing!!) (That's my joke) so

Stay sweet and kind forever

(Or I'll kill you!) Thank you ever so much for your friendship. Have a wonderful summer

and stay out of trouble!

Aaron

Don't let it hurt so at camp!
the advice we are the only ones
with no journey
to me having me
to really help you through it
I'm really
happy for you
and the journey
we are on I'm really
happy for you
and the journey
we are on

My love,

Love,

Just like you Aaron

The quest for IDENTITY

What you were,

What you are,

What you will be;

exploring and penetrating

deep into the fields of knowledge and discovering self potential, reaching out to stimulate the minds of others,

while probing the thoughts within yourself.

Relating, expressing, teaching your individual achievements,

a true realization of a purpose in life.

Through these experiences,

you find yourself unique.

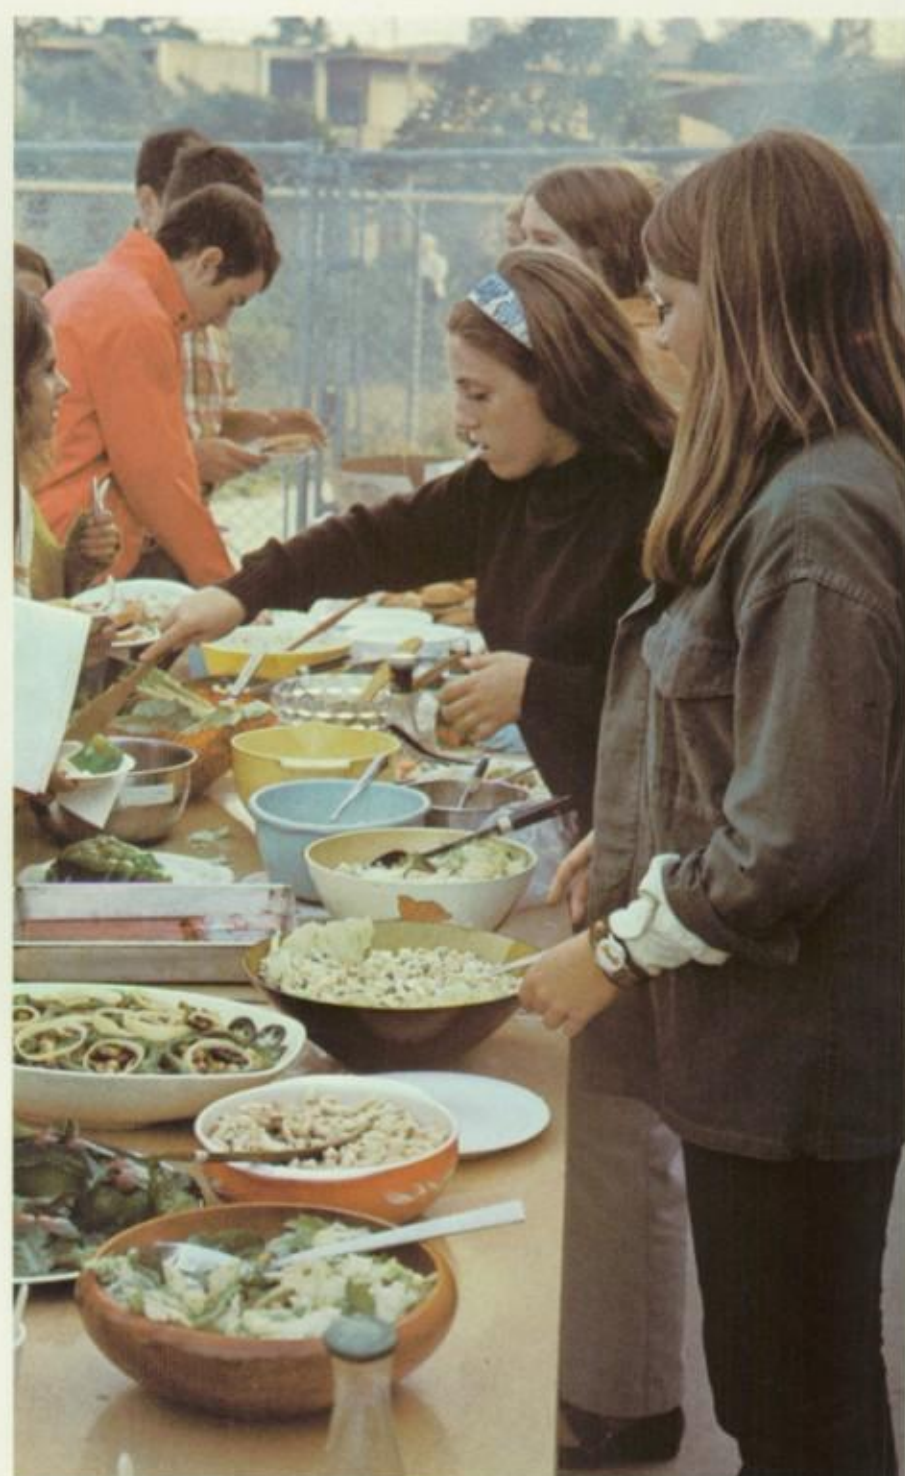

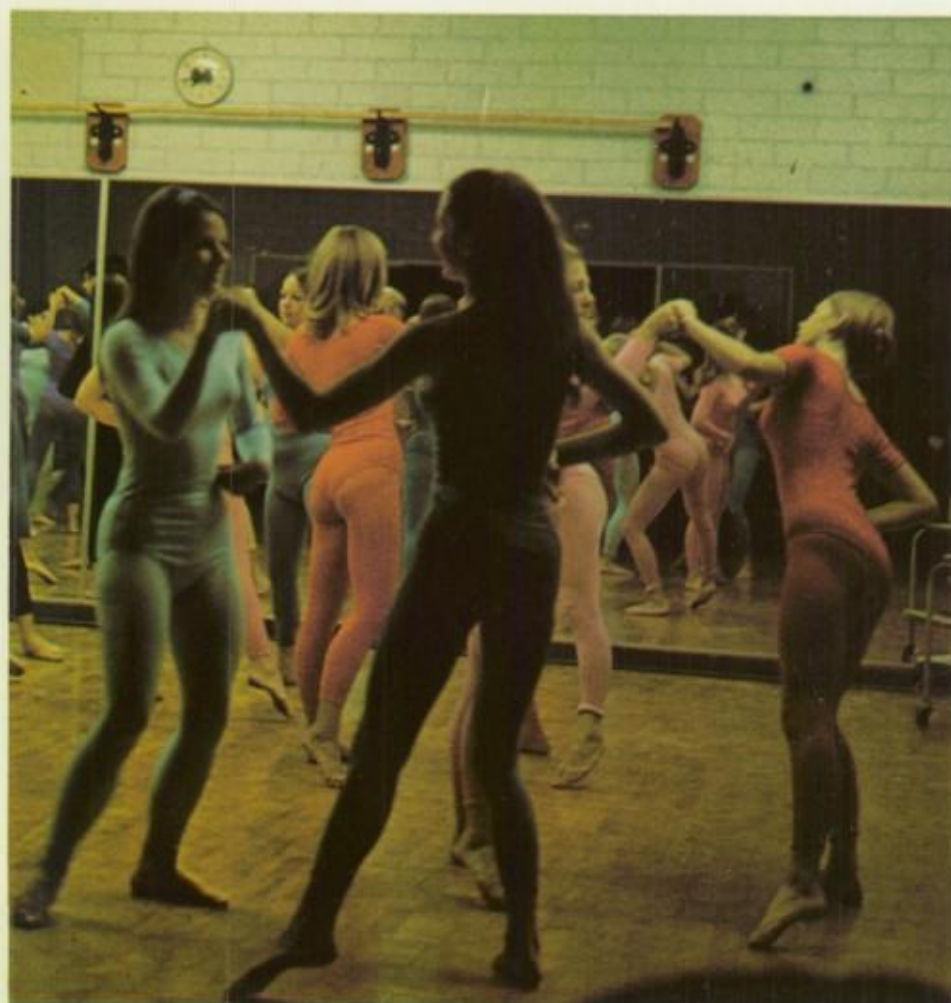

The illustration features a black silhouette of a person walking away from the viewer on a path. The path is depicted with simple, sketchy lines. In the upper left corner, there are dark, intricate silhouettes of tree branches and leaves. The background is a plain, light color.

Flexible Programs Part of Reforms

Reform—a word that described the goals of the district administration this year.

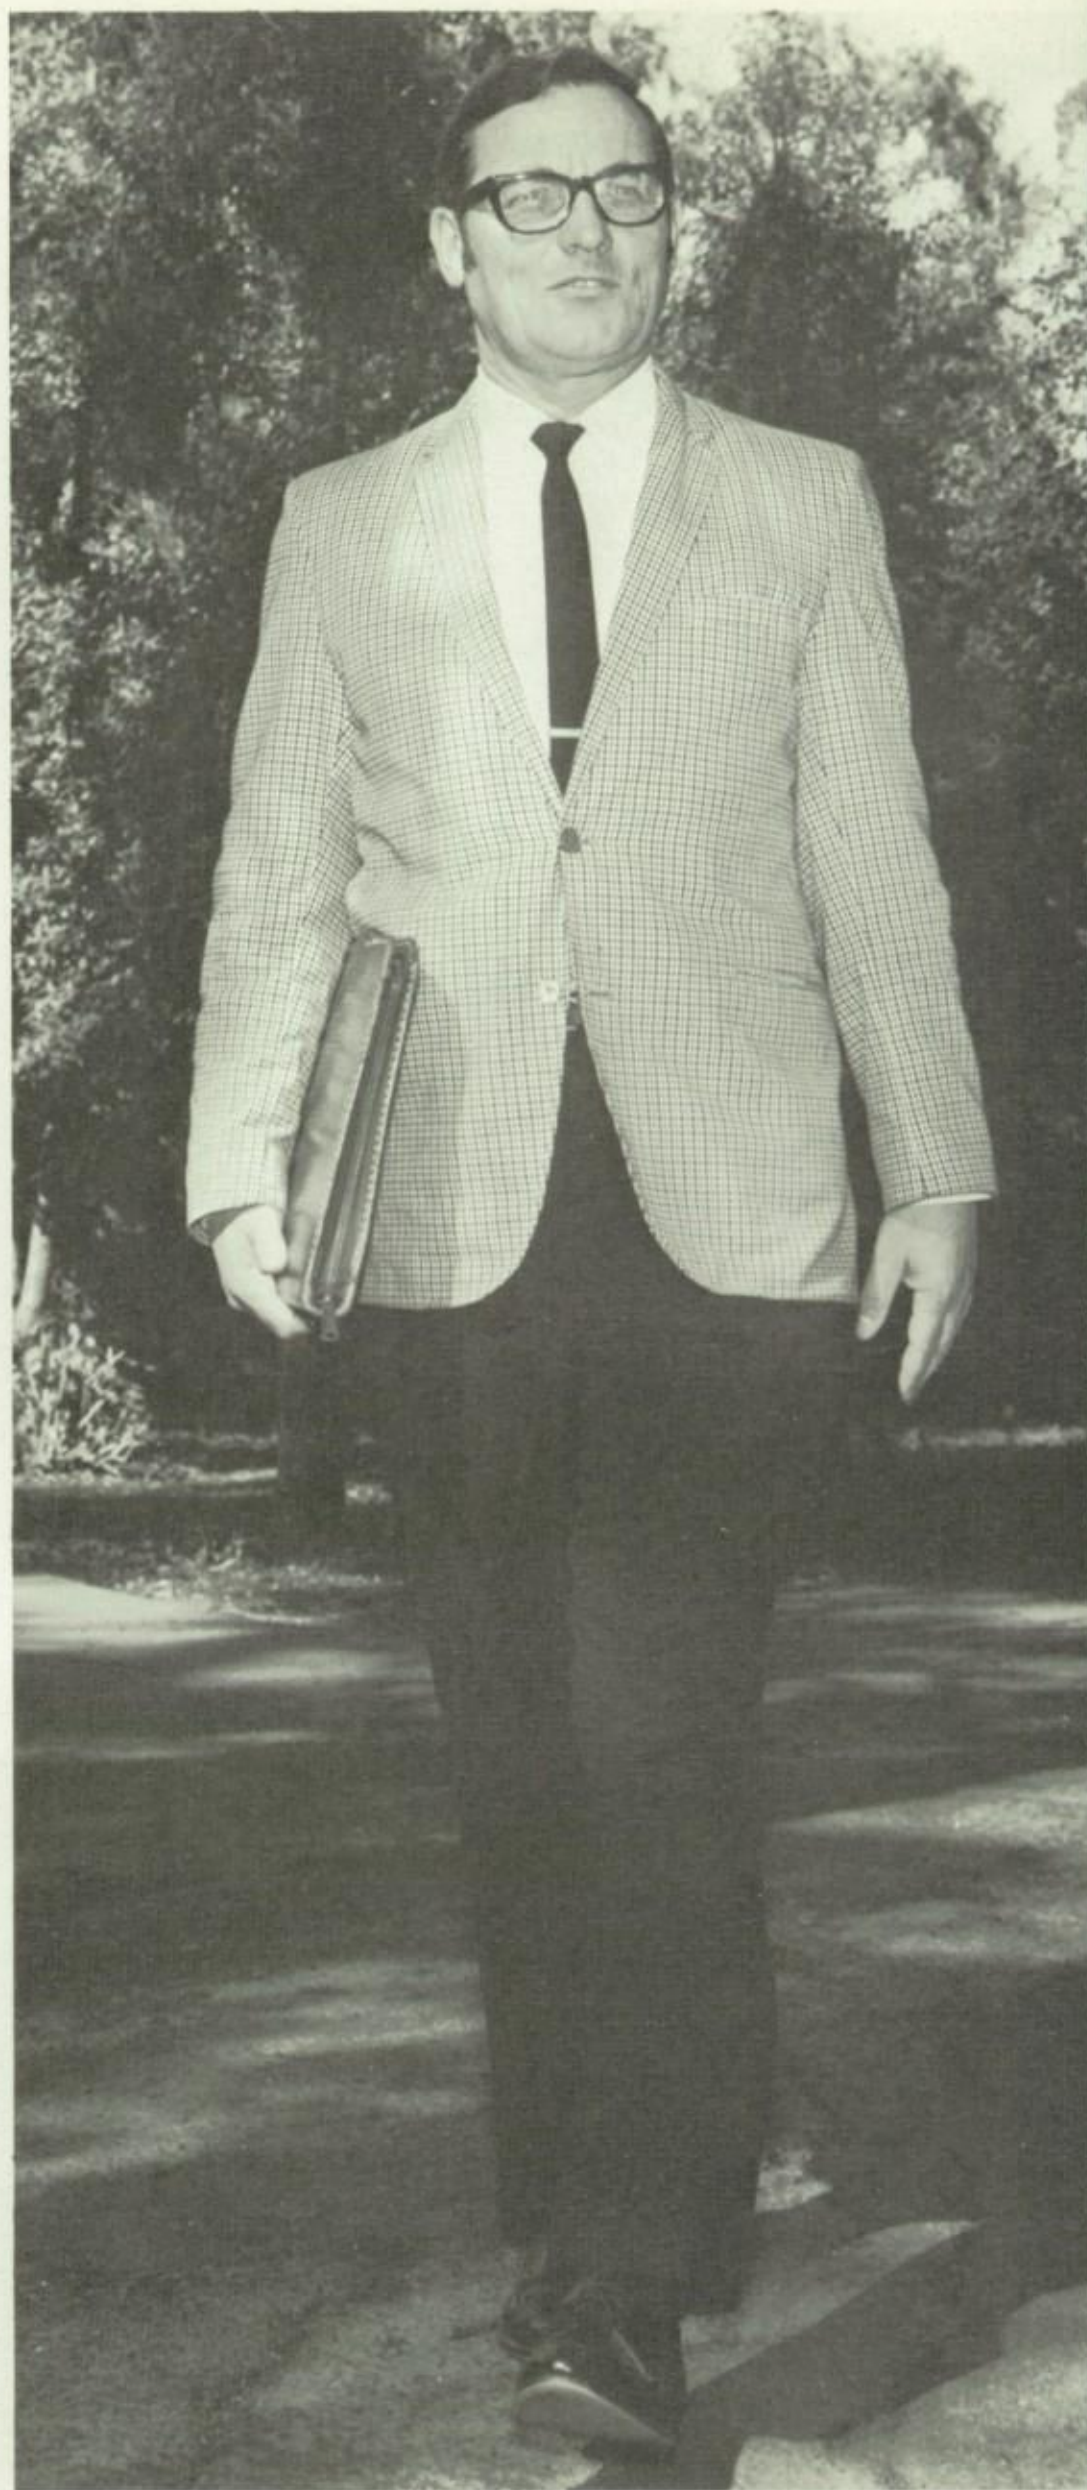

Dr. Thomas Woods, superintendent of schools, led the educational reform movement on the Peninsula. At RHHS, the first change was in the Social Science Department. Classes changed their emphasis to stress contemporary problems of the country and the world.

While working toward more flexibility in instruction, the possible use of the Lincoln plan was discussed. According to the plan, one day a week students could attend any class which interested them.

Because of bond issue failure, it was difficult to institute new classes which would have led to more flexibility.

OVER A CUP of coffee, Mr. Frank Ferguson and Dr. Thomas Woods discuss school problems. Immediate issues included revised dress code.

DR. THOMAS E. WOODS—DISTRICT SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

DISTRICT ADMINISTRATION—Mr. Charles Brown (Staff Assistant of Educational Planning and Personnel); Mr. David Miller (Assistant Superintendent of Educational Planning and Personnel).

DISTRICT ADMINISTRATION—Mr. William Healy (Director of Educational Housing and Construction); Mr. James E. Crockett (Assistant Superintendent of Business Services).

DISTRICT ADMINISTRATION—Dr. Walter Dombrowsky (Coordinator of Special Education and Guidance Services); Dr. Andrew Joyce (Director of Education); Dr. Frank E. Williamson (Assistant Superintendent of Instruction).

BOARD OF EDUCATION—Dr. Richard Kaehler, Mrs. Eleanor Curry, Mr. C.H. Graham, Mr. John Hanson, Mr. Edmund Rea.

SOME KIDS never grow up! Principal Frank Ferguson enjoys eating popcorn, and Medics Club member Chris Rieger keeps him happy.

School Officials Perform Services

Administration worked on many levels, each trying to help students and better the school.

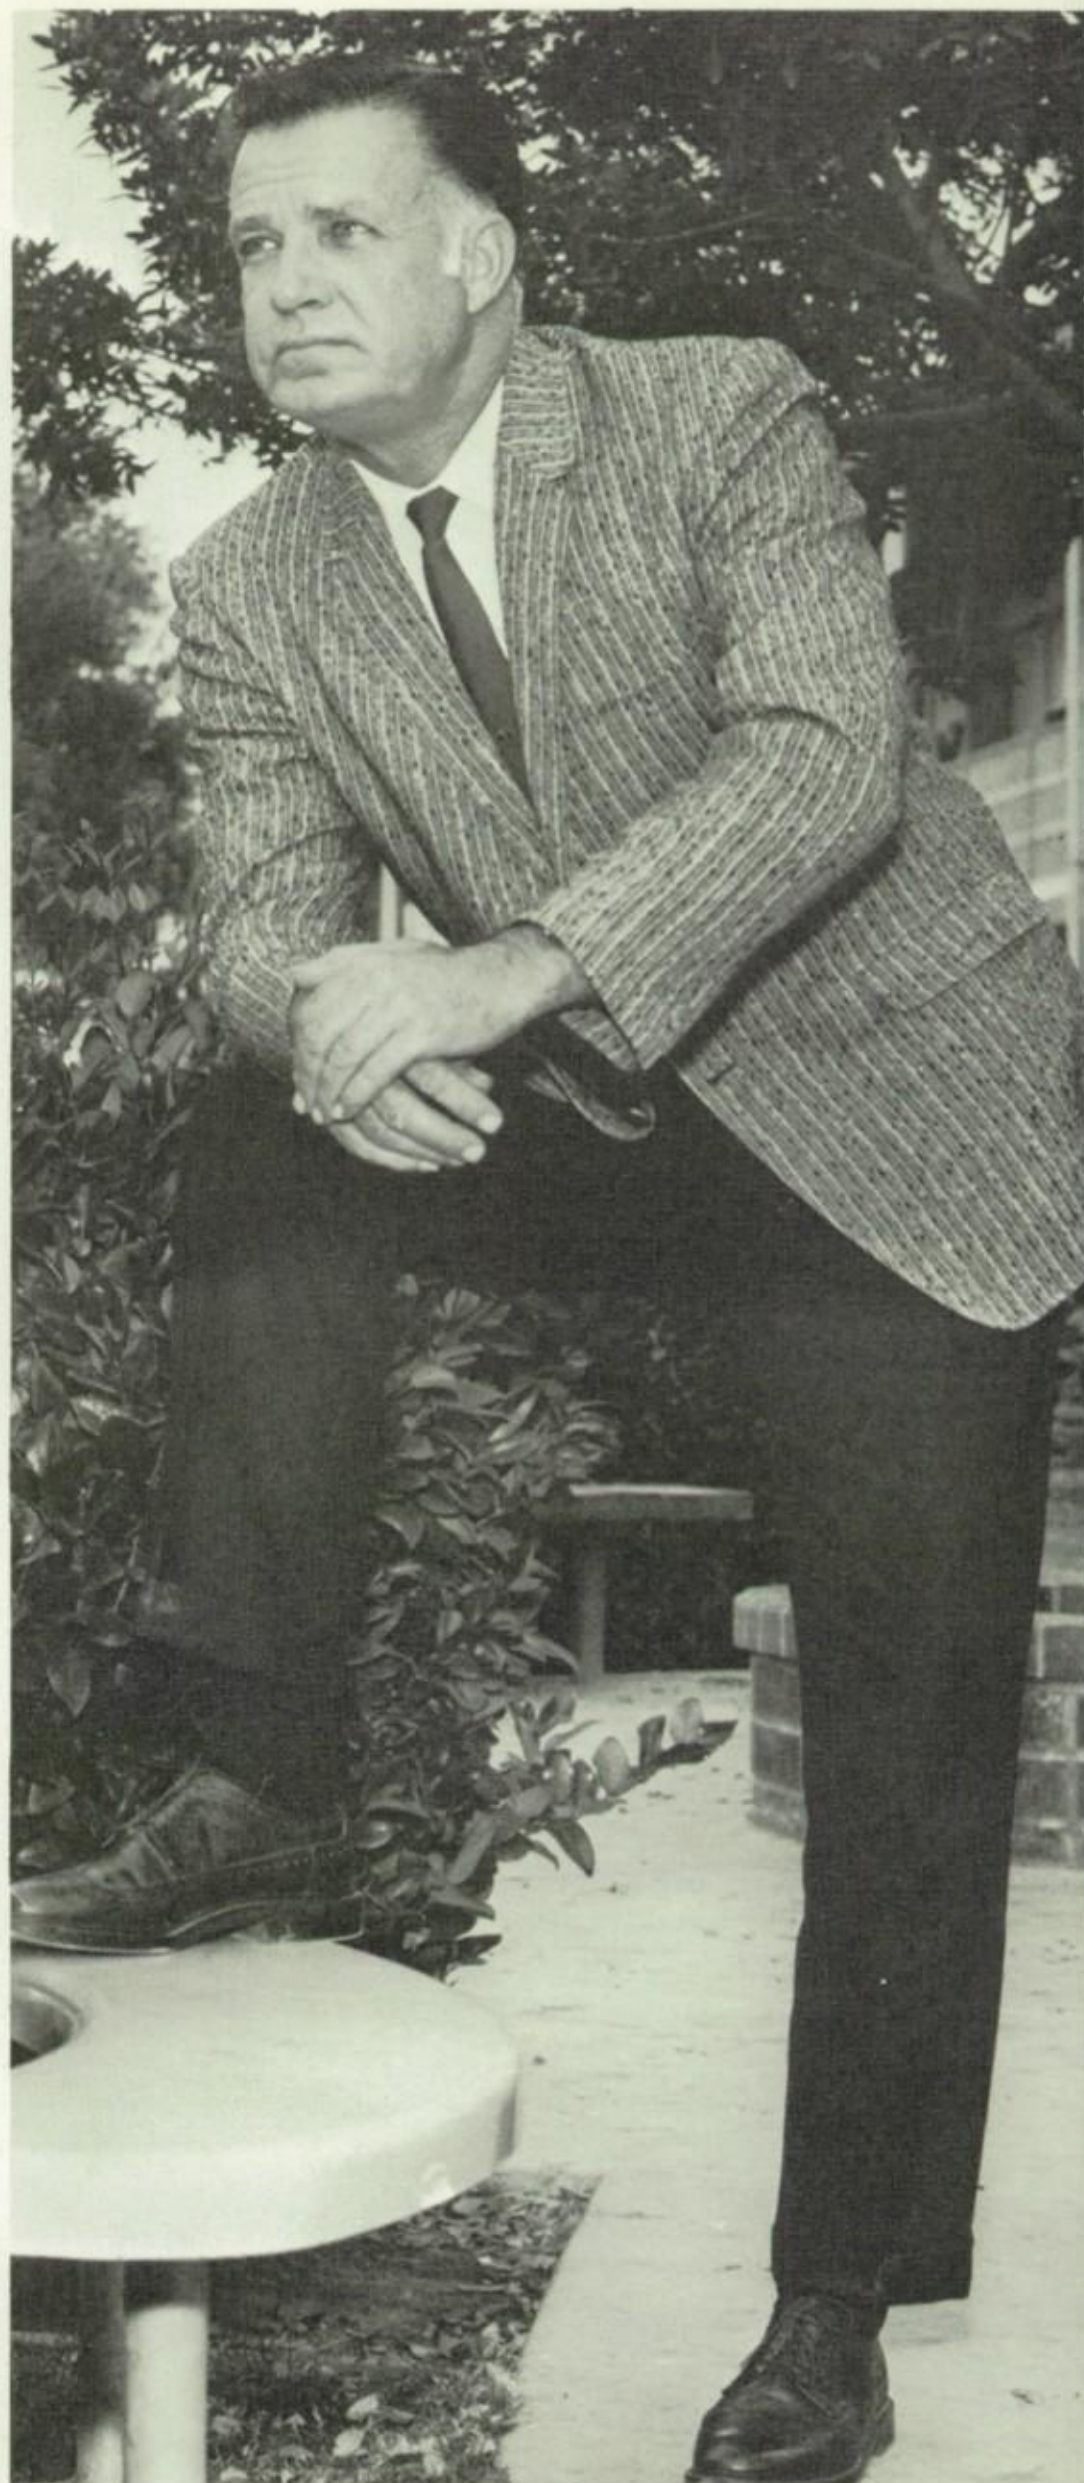

Participate. Communicate. Break the barrier. This is the only way our school can improve. Principal Frank Ferguson tried to get us involved by giving us the opportunity to discuss school problems with the faculty and himself.

Dr. Arthur Townley, who took charge of guidance and curriculum, Mr. William O'Rourke, who directed student management, and Mrs. Beatrice Cron, who handled girls' discipline, also tried to give us a chance to improve our school.

Escape, refuge, relief, rest. What comes to mind when these words are repeated to oneself? The nurse's office, of course. To approximately 1,500 of us a month, the office proved to be just that.

Assignment: Analyze a political cartoon—in depth. Where to head? The library. Selection: 16,000 books, magazines and records. Result: "A" paper.

Staffs Keep Campus Livable

Secretaries—

they work with the computers, send transcripts and straighten out attendance.

Custodians and a matron—

they clean, repair and gather up all the dishes we leave lying around school.

Groundsmen—

they keep school a little greener,

EXHAUSTED from six hours of testing, Doug Fladseth strains to finish his final achievement test. Many students sat through all six hours of testing given by RHHS counselors and aids.

WASC Boosts Vocational Aid

Although counselors were praised last year for guiding the majority of students to higher education, Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC) recommended that vocational assistance also be given to those who did not plan to go to college. Junior counselor Lyle Heck specialized in giving this assistance.

Mr. Heck and other junior counselors, Mr. Jon Knickerbocker and Mr. Chris Rice, visited junior English classes during a three-day vocational assistance unit.

Most contacts with the counselors were initiated by the students, who found the counselors readily available and easy to speak with. Grades, schedules and college information were major topics of discussion.

Computers Make The Math Scene

Look to the future! Math provides the key.

The Math Department predicted computers' importance for the future. We began with Algebra I. Three classes used a new text emphasizing the computer field.

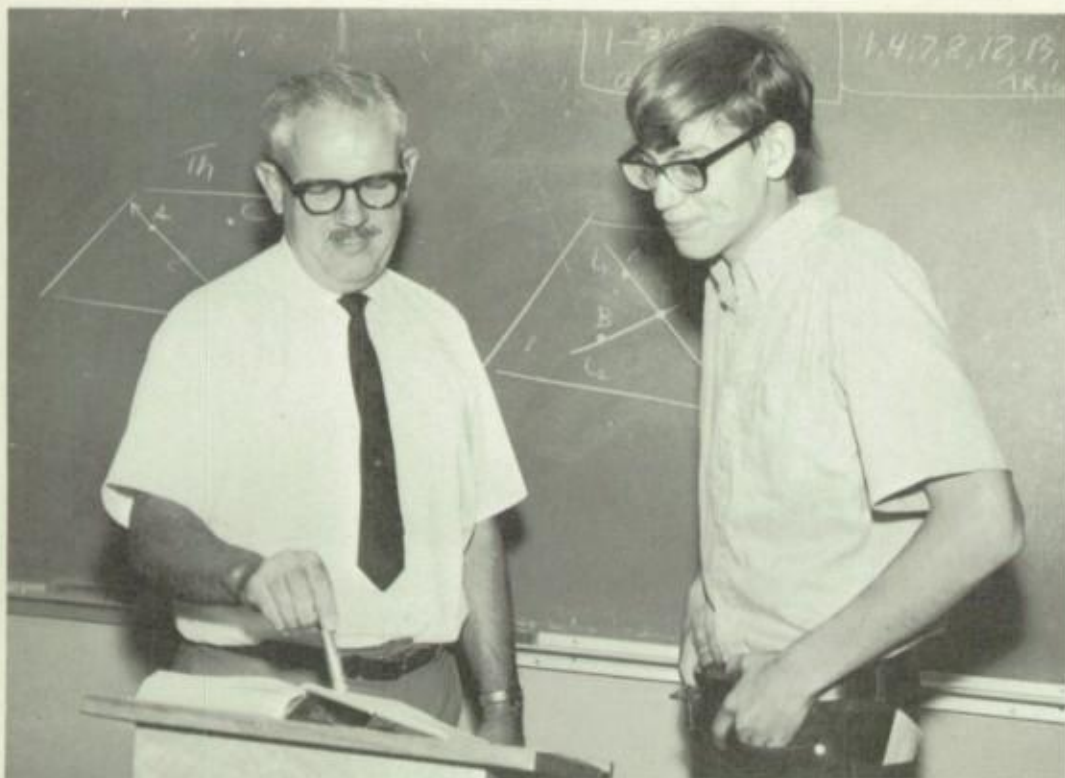

Saturday mornings advanced students worked with a computer. With pencil and eraser in hand, they enthusiastically began . . .

Participation— Key to Science

Read, listen, experiment, cram, pass . . . fail . . . this seemed to be the never-ceasing cycle in science—a learning process which involved only the individual. Answers were discovered through experiments, and hopefully, they were right. We trained ourselves for future success by being exposed to new theories and methods.

Interest, improvement, involvement . . . These were the key words in science. We created them through student participation. We broadened the basic principles of science, involved it with the humanities and gave it life. This is the trend of science today! Make it an experience, not a fact.

TO DEMONSTRATE Galileo's theory that objects of unequal weight fall at the same rate of speed, physics student Paul Appel

Is history really the same as social science? History is applicable to any time, but it is not the only view. What about current problems within the country or world wide?

Social science classes this year moved away from texts and facts to concepts and discussions. Classes, status, ethnic groups—such themes were discussed.

New international relations classes tried to explain modern problems rather than stress history. Sociology helped answer basic questions about man in relation to other men. In October, the Constitutional Rights Foundation Program involved students and parents, teachers and administrators, examining what a high school should be.

Tying current problems in with history—this was the goal of the Social Science Department.

Paint and paper transformed to paintings . . . paste and newspaper suddenly changed to a papier-maché animal . . . a piece of silver, now formed into an intricate ring—you saw all these things in an art class.

The Art Department, under Mr. Dan Alvich, encouraged students to experiment in their projects. Their results were exhibited at the Festival of Arts and at Art for Fun(d)'s Sake.

The blaring of "Aquarius/Let the Sunshine In" and the melody of a waltz were sounds which emanated from the band and newly-formed orchestra. Beginning Girls' or Boys' Glee, Concert Choir and Madrigals were other classes in the Music Department. Music was a good way to sound off.

English Creates Thought Process

Literature—

a combination of old and new. Interviews with Ralph Ellison and Truman Capote. A chance to read that book you'd always wanted to read. Losing your Cliff's Notes the night before the test. It was a long way...

from grammar—

"Language and Linguistics," a film by the University of Indiana. And since you already knew about nouns and verbs, you applied grammar...

to composition—

NCTE winners Beth Gleghorn and Craig Allinder proved their abilities in national competition. A chance to express your opinion on anything from foreign policy to legalization of marijuana. From all these together... English emerged—something we all have in common, a chance to communicate, relate, express and most important—to think.

Special Services Assist Students

Specialized courses, campus employment and discussions of problems of everyday life—these were the elements of special education classes guided by Mrs. Judith Hollander, Mr. Gus Morris and Mr. Robert Schoenburg. Classes were taught in the humanities, mathematics and social sciences. The goal was to give the student a better understanding of himself in relation to society.

Another person who gave special service was home teacher Beverly Peterson. She visited students who, for physical reasons, were unable to attend school. Instructing all four grade levels in all subjects for full credit, she tutored each student daily, covering his regular classroom assignments.

Courses Teach Students 'How'

Business is . . .

Shorthand—Brief forms, homework, pens, pads, transcription.

Disaster . . . during dictation, your only pen ran out of ink.

Bookkeeping—Debits and credits, depreciation, income and expense, assets minus liabilities equal proprietorship. Curses!! Your debits didn't equal your credits . . . oh well, back to the old balance sheet.

Typing—One minute practice, modified block, speed tests, mixed punctuation.

Help!! The space bar went berserk.

Business is also a basis for getting a job and for gaining knowledge for a college career. Testing their skills in the annual Student Business Conference at El Camino College, Keith Parker, Mike Keith, Bonnie Cherrick and Barbara McCoy captured top honors.

Fitness Activities Stressed in P.E.

We did sit-ups, push-ups, the flexed-arm hang and the 600-yard dash. A state committee evaluated the RHHS Physical Education Department. Result? This year, RHHS became a model for the California State Physical Fitness Program.

You didn't like physical fitness? Well, one way out was to break your arm and join coach Gary Kimbrell's adaptive P.E. Students with physical restrictions worked out with light weights and played games such as ping-pong and croquet.

Students Learn Useful Techniques In Practical Arts

The smell of chocolate chip cookies met you as you walked past the cooking room. You smelled sawdust and paint as you passed the woodshop. The rhythm of sewing machines reached your ear as you walked farther, and then you heard a lecture on electrical systems.

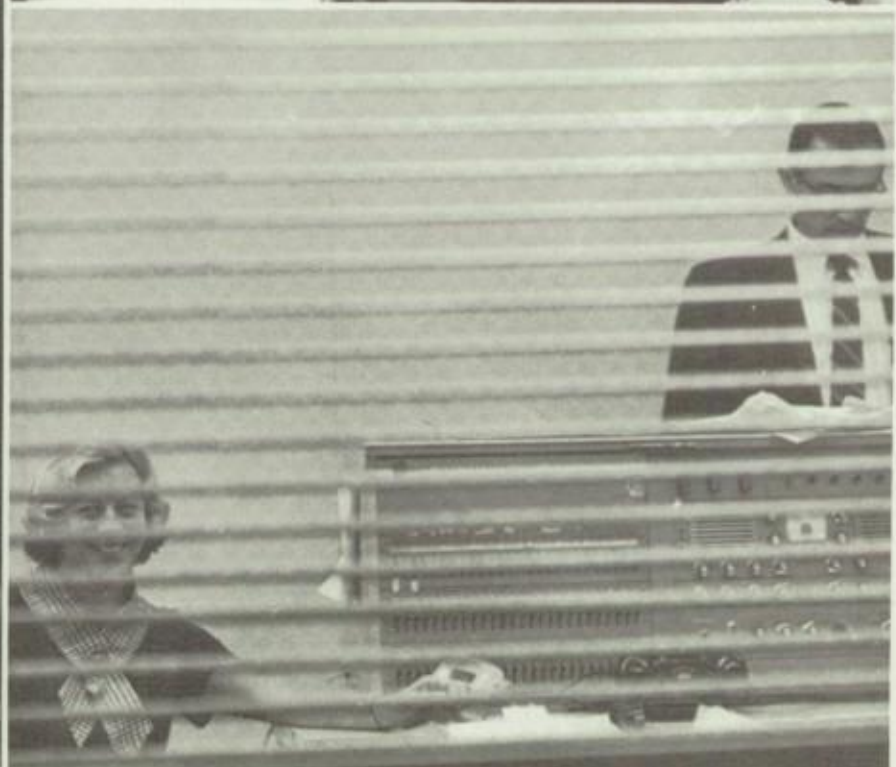

One important purpose of practical arts was to train students for a vocation. Girls learned how to sew and cook for themselves. Boys learned how to build furniture and make electrical systems.

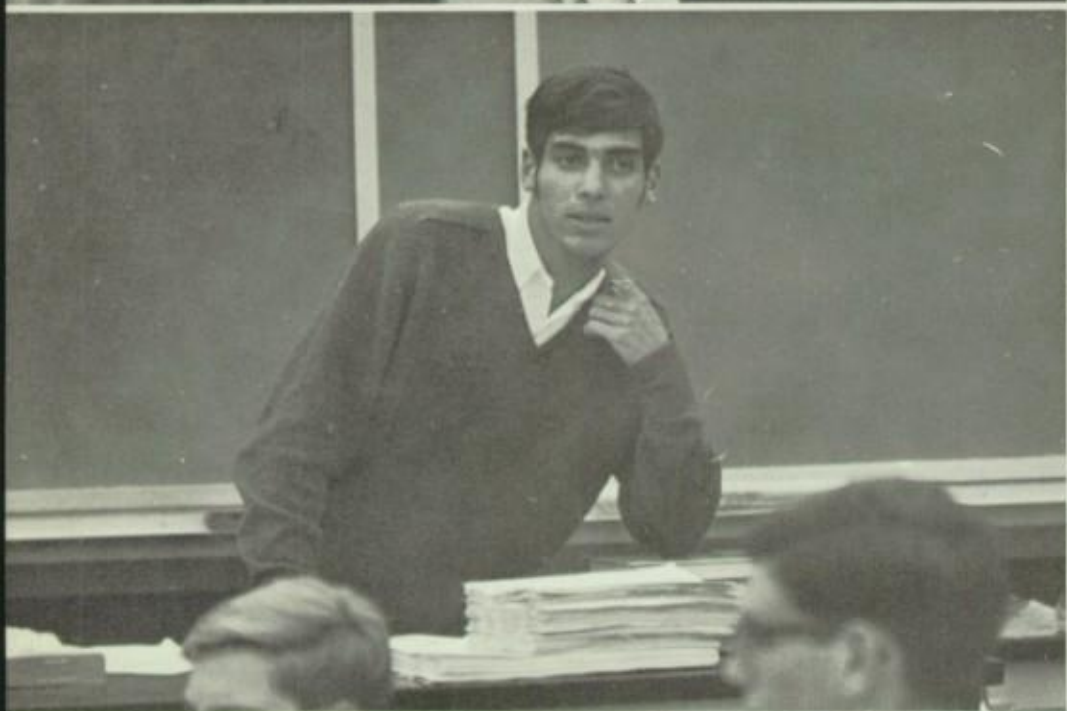

Guest speakers from various practical art fields, such as McCall's Patterns and Unique Zipper, helped to guide students and give them helpful ideas. The goals—to gain practical as well as academic knowledge; to enrich life.

Seniors Individually Search for Meaning

PETE KILLEFER
Senior Class President

To root out the meaningless and substitute it with reflections of revolutionary thoughts and actions.

To create something which would last; something that would be remembered.

We tried many things as a group— a senior tree, a Homecoming display, Grad night, a ditch day; some failed, some worked.

As individuals we succeeded in many areas. Ten seniors were named National Merit Scholarship semi-finalists. Two students received the NCTE achievement award. Fifty-five seniors were inducted into National Honor Society and nine representatives were sent to the Schools in Democracy Convention. Also, three students were selected as finalists for the Outstanding Teenager of America Award.

We have the means to a successful end; we will reach it.

Year—Graffiti of Privileges, Activities

DAN SOMERS
Junior Class President

DOUG POSEY
Junior Class Vice-president

Graffiti. A word that describes the past year for us. It was a year of varied activities, privileges and responsibilities.

We began the year by doing something different— instead of the usual mural, we created a colorful box sculpture as our Homecoming project. Concessions at games and a candy sale before Christmas helped build our treasury. We planned a small prom in the spring aboard a boat which toured Ports O'Call Harbor.

Becoming upperclassmen this year made us aware of the importance of planning for college, careers and the future. A three-day vocational interest unit with the junior counselors helped us get an idea of what we want to do in life.

With the end of the year came the responsibility of being the senior class, the class of 1971.

Homecoming for Juniors— A Personal Expression, Kaleidoscope of Emotions

JANICE COLGATE adds a weird face to a side of the junior Homecoming project. Paste cans, colorful tissue, magazine pictures and creativity all went into a kaleidoscope of emotions.

OVERPOWERED by hunger and two persuasive girls, Craig Mangano and Steve Wathen sample lollipops sold by Pat Paulson and Robin Thorpe.

The junior class held a candy sale on the day before Christmas to raise money for the treasury and to help sweeten up the holidays.

We had ascended from the depths. No longer would we lurch in mazes of uncertainty. We were sophomores. We were WET and WILD. Our activities proved it.

WET . . .

Water bucket toss—Wasn't it thrilling to goggle at drenched teachers? Ice skating—Your somersault would have qualified you for the Olympics; the gash above your eye, the operating room. Homecoming mural—Your eyes watered when remembering the exhausting hours of creation.

WILD . . .

Trash cans—You nearly lost your breath when admiring the completed masterpieces. Soph Doll dance Everyone was dancing so squirmingly that the floating limbs made it look like a gym full of octopi.

Now we are ready to rise to the surface. Nothing could stop us now, not even seaweed. Watch out! We're going to make big waves.

Freshman Class Vice-president

High school . . .

A step up from junior high—

Joining new clubs and participating in activities like—

Constructing the Homecoming
mural, "Sunrise, Sunset."

Selling flowers to boost the class treasury.

Attending football, basketball and baseball games and supplying spirit to support our teams.

High school . . .

A step before college and careers—

Next year . . .

a step higher in high school,
a step closer to our goals.

PUTTING their muscle to it, the freshmen help the sun rise. Using the theme of "Sunrise, Sunset," they successfully planned and constructed the mural for Homecoming week. The brightly colored sun shone on campus during the whole week.

Under the leadership of ASB President
Frank Giardino,
Student Council succeeded:
in getting members for the Parent

(P.T.S.A.),
in changing the constitution (now grades are no object for offices), in planting flowers on the campus,
in starting a Student Advisory Board.

"This meeting is now adjourned."

"BUT IT'S COLD!" screams Mrs. Sue Cornner when boys from Leadership Camp push her into the swimming pool. Only a few escaped their pranks.

"IT'S LIKE THIS..." explains Brad Smith while airing his views on newspaper censorship. Discussions included Homecoming plans and flower planting.

Bizarre Activities Mark 1969 Homecoming

What is Homecoming?

A combined lunch, the "big game," or is it a theme?

Kaleidoscope—"a collage of bizarre activities."

A Key Club slave auction, a bid for the privilege of administering an ice water bath on a faculty member, an ASB assembly presented by senior Rob Hollister, and a victory over Palos Verdes, 28-0.

Or is it a dance and a queen?

At the coronation assembly—Gay Sutherland was crowned Homecoming queen. A new twist to the Homecoming dance—it was moved from the gym to the Hawthorne multi-purpose room with Brother Nigel's Proxy Party.

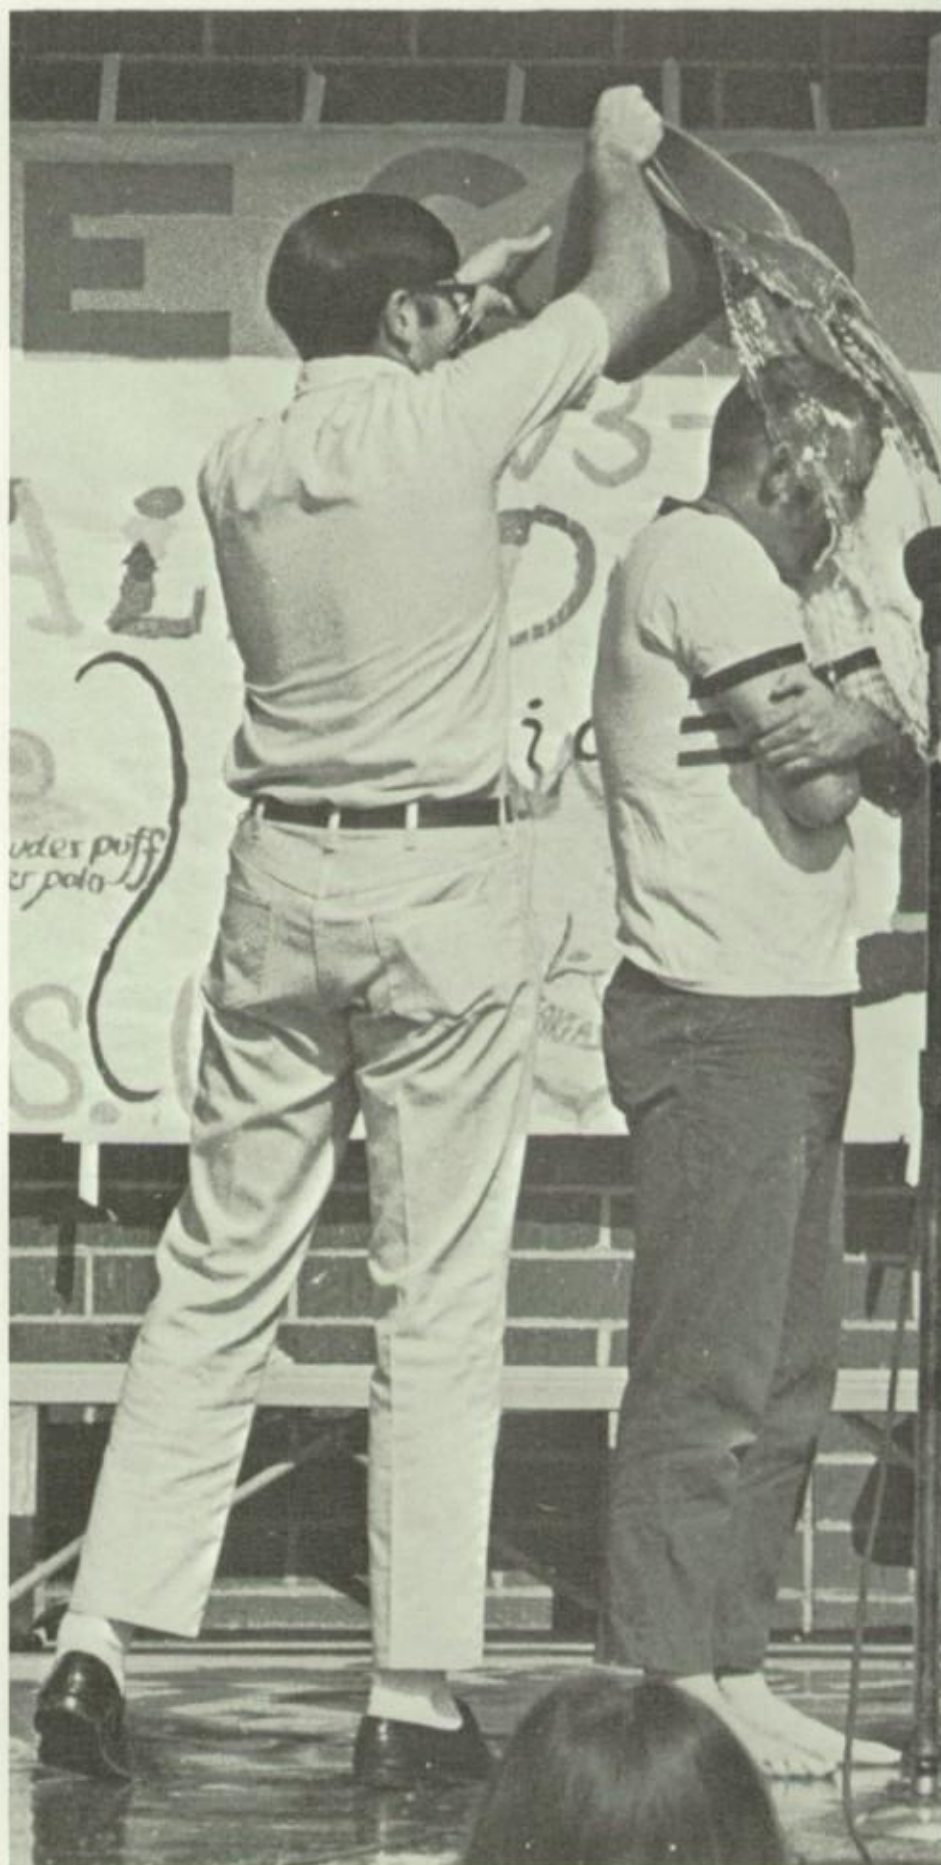

Or is Homecoming...

A rained out carnival and fine arts festival.

Lack of participation in Powder Puff water polo and a 6:00 A.M. breakfast-dance.

What is Homecoming?

It's what you make it!

"BRRRR!!" cries Mr. James Barlow as he gets drenched with ice cold water by junior Keith Bonner at the Sophomore Splash of Homecoming week.

BY CUTTING out pictures to paste on the boxes for their mural, creative juniors constructed "Here Comes the Sun." It was based on a free form collage.

AUCTIONEER Brad Smith keeps the bidding on Leslie Masters and Kerry Colvig moving swiftly during the annual Key Club slave auction. The highest bidder got the privilege of enjoying a scrumptious lunch prepared for the occasion. Girls at right are patiently waiting to be "sold."

ALUMNUS Cindi Cooper and partner "rock out" to the sounds of Brother Nigel's Proxy Party.

ENTHUSIASTIC freshmen entered into the Homecoming spirit by working diligently to prepare their mural "Sunrise, Sunset" for campus display.

Queen, Princesses Brighten Kaleidoscope

ESCORTED by Rob Hollister is Lynn Heffernan, a hopeful Homecoming queen candidate at the coronation assembly.

SMILING with happiness are senior princesses Susie Bohning, Chris Mitchell, Kerry Mullen and Lynn Heffernan, as they wait to be presented as part of the Homecoming queen's court.

OVERWHELMED with surprise is Gay Sutherland as she is announced 1969 Homecoming queen.

SIGNS OF excitement mark the faces of freshman Judy Lacertosa, sophomore Susie Hahn and junior Kerry Karshner as they stand before Homecoming audience.

GAY SUTHERLAND
Homecoming Queen

CONVINCED that it is for her own good, Ellen (Debbie Gray) swallows all of the sleeping pills given to her by Charlot (Bruce Fischer, right) as Judy (Leslie Spanier), Christopher (Rob Hollister) and Paulie (Joanne Gaynor) look on.

'Playroom' Stars 'The Filthy Five'

Who can forget Elvis, the panda bear, and that "faultless hussy" Guinevere? Or the blaring rock music and flashy light show? Or the unique "split stage" that showed two sets simultaneously? Students and adults working together for the first time in "The Playroom" couldn't forget.

Mary Drayton's play centered around Judy Michaels and her friends, all members of "The Filthy Five." Judy, who always demanded the attention of her father (Mr. Dick Cowgill), became insanely jealous when he married a widow (Miss Mary Oran).

"The Filthy Five" (four-fifths played by Craig Allinder, Bruce Fischer, Joanne Gaynor and Rob Hollister) decided to kidnap Judy's stepsister Ellen in order to hurt Judy's stepmother. The ensuing scenes of a turret hideaway, use of electronic bugging, sleeping pills, plastic bags and a hot chase by the police all added up to an exciting climax.

"WHY! WHY!" screams David Michaels (Dick Cowgill) as he grabs his daughter Judy (Leslie Spanier) during a dramatic scene.

they imitate motorcycles. Judy (Leslie Spanier, left) and Paulie (Joanne Gaynor, right) playfully join in the game.

ERIC (Craig Allinder), Charlot (Bruce Fischer) and Christopher (Rob Hollister) get ready to conceal Ellen (Debbly Gray).

CHARLOT (Bruce Fischer), Eric (Craig Allinder) and Christopher (Rob Hollister) wrap Ellen's body in plastic for disposal in a turret.

Silver Bells Ring Out Christmas Joy

AMIDST falling snowflakes at the sixth annual Christmas dance are Key Club Queen Karen Graham and princesses Judy Feole, Carol Baddeley, Lynn Heffernan and Caprice Rutkosky. Nominated and escorted by Key Club members, the girls were presented during the dance.

DANCING to the sounds of the Blue Notes are Debbie White and Dan MacLellan. Couples enjoyed the combined effect of soft music and the holiday scenery at the Christmas dance.

Uncontrollable excitement . . . when that special someone said "Yes" and you were on your way to the sixth annual Christmas dance.

Feelings of enchantment . . . surrounded by silver foiled walls and suspended snowflakes, the music of the Blue Notes swept you into the mood of the evening.

Spreading good cheer . . . placing presents under the beautifully decorated Christmas tree for our Korean orphan.

Moments of surprise . . . watching Karen Graham being crowned Key Club Queen.

Excitement, enchantment, good cheer and surprise . . . the feelings of Christmas had just begun.

HIS EYES closed with the sounds of his music, Randy Sparks performs at the 1970 Hootenanny. RHHS graduate Tim Riley also entertained.

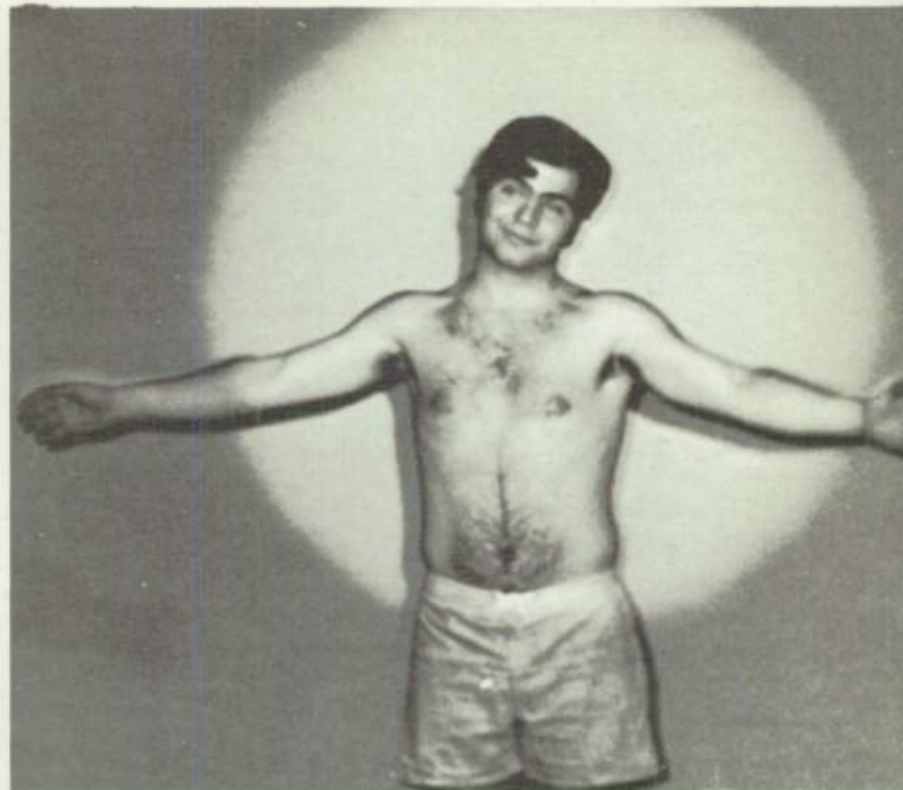

TO INTRODUCE a television show for World Wide Wickets Treasure Hunt, Andee Vogel (left) dances with the Wickettes in the PTA play.

"A-OKAY and look over yonder," sing Lois Rosen, Dee Ferrey (lower right) and Wickettes as they finish a rousing finale of the "Pirate Dance." In the PTA summer play, the dance gave a clue as to where the treasure was hidden.

DISPLAYING his strength, John Zirpola (as the Young Man) does arm exercises in "Sandbox," during the Festival of Arts.

Plays Recreate Comedy, Tragedy on Stage

"I JUST can't stop," explains Tommy (Tim Hurley) to Alice (Nancy Whalen) during a scene from "The Brick and the Rose." Alice tried to give him the strength to stop taking drugs.

Presenting:

"How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying"

The efforts of RHHS and PVHS combined in a performance of pirate dancing, search for hidden treasure and a T.V. show with a clue to the treasure's location.

The Fine Arts Festival

An assortment of one act plays—"Sandbox"

A play of American old age and death.

"The Man Who Loved God"

The racial and religious struggle of a preacher.

"The Brick and the Rose" the winner of the festival dramas

The story of a young boy growing up in the slums.

Curtain calls and a standing ovation.

Impressions Mark Spirit of Choreo

BEGINNING in a still position on top of a black box, Michelle Swoben creates an intense mood while dancing to the music of Neil Diamond in

"Soul Summons." Leslie Spanier appeared in the audience to join Michelle while others danced in the background.

Personal Impressions

They emerged between bright lights, silhouettes and abstract scenery.

Highlights

"Space For Time," "Thus Spake Tranquility," "Soul Summons," "Flashback" . . .

Purpose—

to affect a response,
to portray a mood.

Amidst applause, a smile

Dancer of the Year—Sandy Gray

"Sanskaras" means:

one's personal impression
the realization of a feeling.

FROM FOGGY depths of stage emerge Vicki Sauer, Patrice Clark and Janet Evans, as they generate a pacifying influence over audience in "Thus Spake Tranquility."

"WE HOLD these truths..." drones a voice as Choreo members (right) perform popular dances of the 18th century.

Dancers (left) wait to be introduced in "Flashback," a number that showed development of dance in the United States.

MARCHING OUT of her sentry post like a wooden soldier is Penny Lewis in "Our Gang," performed during "Sanskaras."

DISPLAYING her agility, Sandy Gray does a backflip in "Autumn Leaves." Sandy was selected Dancer of the Year.

"UNHAND ME!" cries a surprised Reverend Humphrey (Dr. Arthur Townley) as Miss Skillon (Mrs. Kay Anderson) tries to seduce him.

HUNTING for his clothes, Reverend Toop (Mr. Howard Plzak), in blue underwear, sidesteps a drunk Miss Skillon (Mrs. Kay Anderson) in a chase after Corporal Winton (Mr. Frank Ferro). Joining the race is the Bishop of Lax (Mr. Dewey Ostrom).

Mistaken Identity Ignites Comic Chaos

MINUS one clerical robe, the Bishop of Lax (Mr. Dewey Ostrom) leaps around the stage trying to find out what's going on.

"WHERE AM I?" says a groggy Miss Skillon (Mrs. Kay Anderson) as Ida the maid (Mrs. Ann Tomkinson) helps her to sit up.

Picture a vicar without his clothes
 (Reverend Toop couldn't find them anywhere)
 ...and a Russian spy with a gun (Penelope Toop feared for her life)
 ...and an actor dressed up as a vicar (he couldn't find the appropriate uniform)
 ...and a drunk found in the closet
 (the village spinster, none other than Miss Skillon)
 ...and finally a policeman without his man
 (he finally cornered the Russian spy)

The result— A play of mistaken identity starring Penelope Toop (Miss Mary Oran) and Reverend Toop (Mr. Howard Plzak)...

The problems of marriage with an actress.

Hard work, excitement, fun...

"See How They Run" by Philip King.

JUMPING on the sofa, Penelope Toop (Miss Mary Oran) frantically helps Corporal Clive Winton (Mr. Frank Ferro) with a clerical collar.

Days of Future Past —

Styles of today and yesterday. We can see the future by looking at the past. The mini, the maxi, the long and the short of it. . . where will it all end? The fashions of the 70's are reminiscent of the 30's & 40's.

With a backdrop of shades of blue, girls paraded their own creations for an appreciative audience. From formals and datewear, to schoolwear and playwear. . . a variety of outfits to please any taste.

Buttons 'n Bows—the chance for every girl to make that dream fashion.

EXAMINING the stitchery of dresses submitted for competition, judges Joanne Stark and Lenore Eisenstein discuss the work of one entrant.

ACCOMPANIED by the soft strains of the piano, Colette Urashima describes an outfit from "Datewear."

SURPRISING the audience with her velvet brown pantsuit as formal wear, Linda Swanson models her creation. Appropriately attired in a shocking purple shirt is escort Allan Cantor.

Fashion of Future Reflects Days Past

SITTING: Vivian, Renee, Vicky Kwan. WINNERS-STANDING: Louise Tai (Playwear), Lorna Merriman (Schoolwear, junior-senior), Sandy Cade

(Miss Originality), Debbie Gilbertson (Datewear), Linda Swanson (Formals), Jane Clement (Schoolwear, frosh-soph), Sandy Lamos (Ensembles).

GRIPPING her escort's arm for moral support, candidate Lynn Terill realizes with surprise she has just been selected Soph Doll.

THE MAGIC MOMENT arrives and Rene Trevino is proclaimed Mr. Ugly. Armed with a bouquet of weeds and a smile of victory, he surveys crowd.

POSING ENTICINGLY, "Slop Dolls" encourage all to attend annual dance. Candidates are: Patty Posterior, Betty Biceps, Ruby Redlips, Lucy Legs, Francie Frizzy, Sally Stubbles, and Nancy Knock Knees.

Soph Doll, Mr. Ugly: Beauty and Beast

CRIMSON TIDE provides the music as Penny Lewis and exchange student Zelimir Mazura enjoy some relaxation from a busy week at Mr. Ugly stomp.

Vote, Vote, Vote, cry the handsome young men . . .
Vote, Vote, Vote, cry the pretty young girls . . .
"Can you spare a dime? Any change will do" . . .
so they plead, nailing you in the lunch line when you can't say, "Sorry, I don't have any."

The Soph Sweetheart — who will she be?
Soft brown curls and a long gown, or blond and bright. Suspense fills the air . . .
the girl is announced and roses and a kiss await she who is voted Soph Doll.
Mr. Ugly — who will he be?
Brain or brawn, tall or short, fat or thin.
Flashing smiles and charming people, contestants win votes . . . on that special night, a bouquet of weeds, fame and fortune are presented to Mr. Ugly

DANCING IS the best way to get rid of all your inhibitions as any RHHS student will tell you. Exhibiting a unique style and great form, one couple shows how it's done.

SINGING with the band, Brad Smith tests his vocal chords, while partner Carol Baddeley adds a bit of choreography.

EXTENDING her hand in friendship, an overly eager Molly Brown (Jeannie Snow) and husband Johnny (Tyler Pederson) evoke the amazement of Mrs. McGlone (Becky Breeding) and the concern of the Monseigneur (Robert Costello).

Molly

From Hannibal, Mo.
Left home to find herself,
to find people, to find love.
You couldn't keep her down.
"I Ain't Down Yet

Molly Brown

An escape to Europe.
For once people see her for the person she really is.
But the need for Johnny draws her home.

"The Unsinkable Molly Brown"

A show of warmth and appeal.

Starring...

Molly Tobin—Patrice Clark, Jeannie Snow

Johnny Brown—Jay Montgomery, Tyler Pederson

PLEDGING his love, Johnny 'Leadville' Brown (Jay Montgomery) sings to his sweetheart Molly Tobin (Patrice Clark).

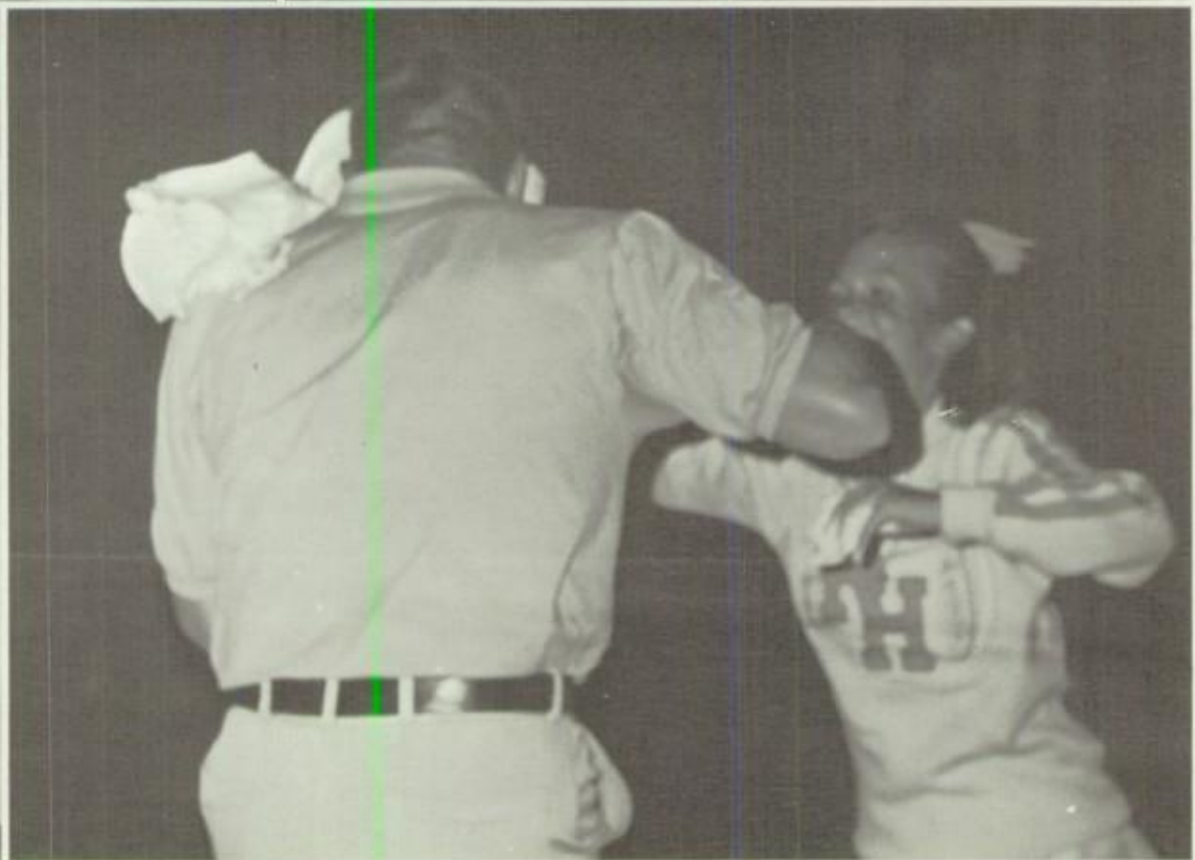

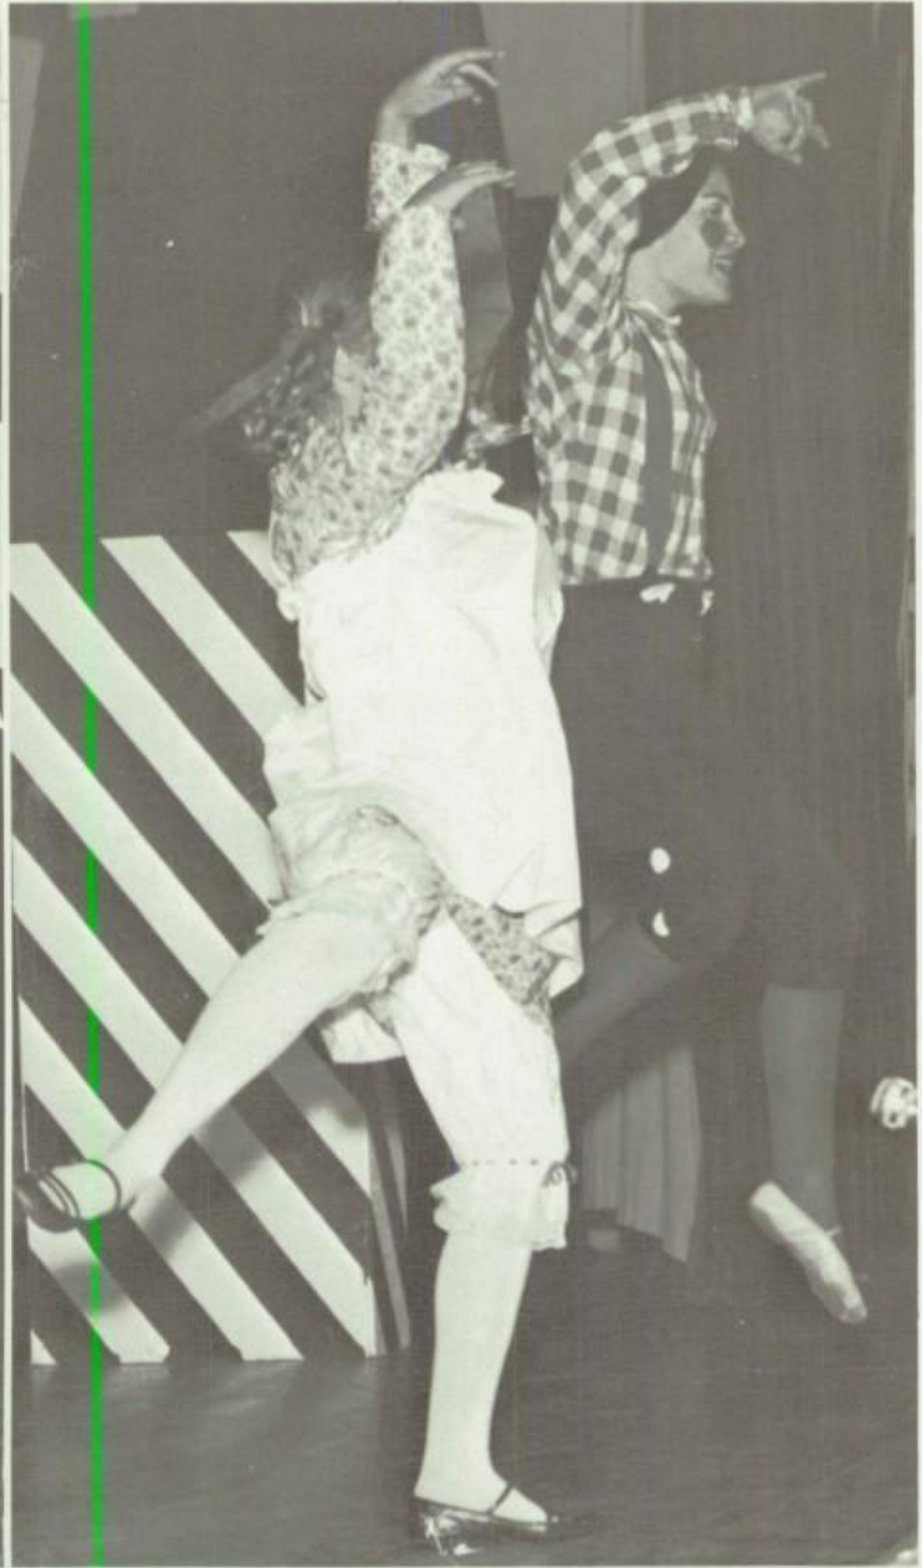

'Unsinkable Molly' Sails to Success

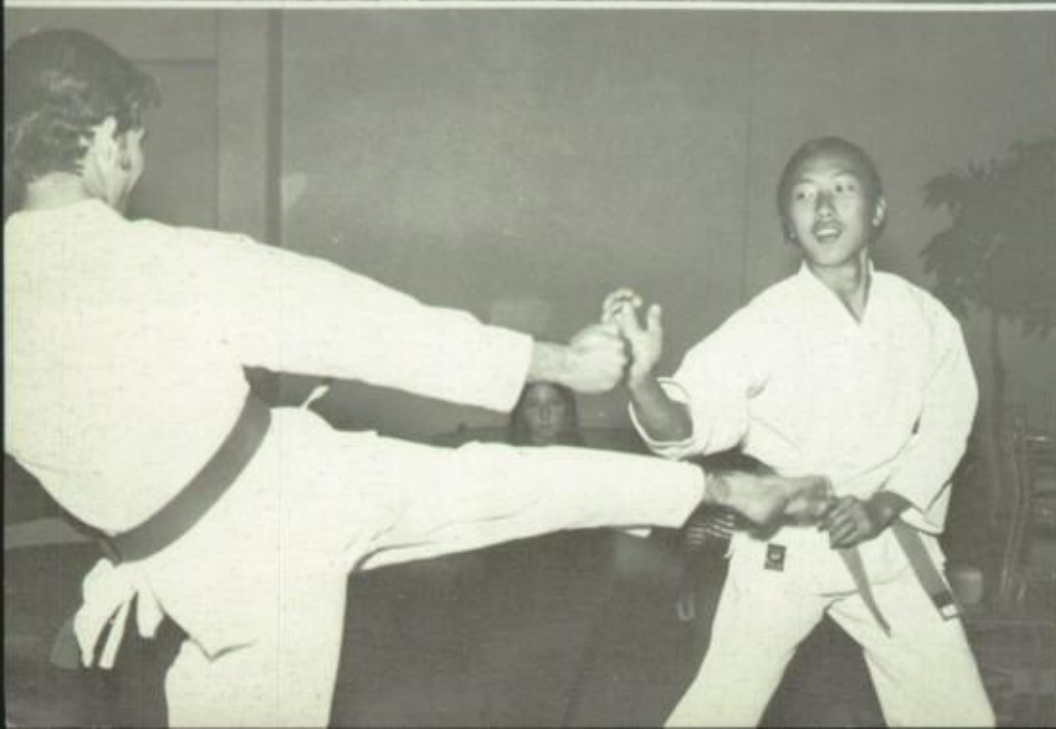

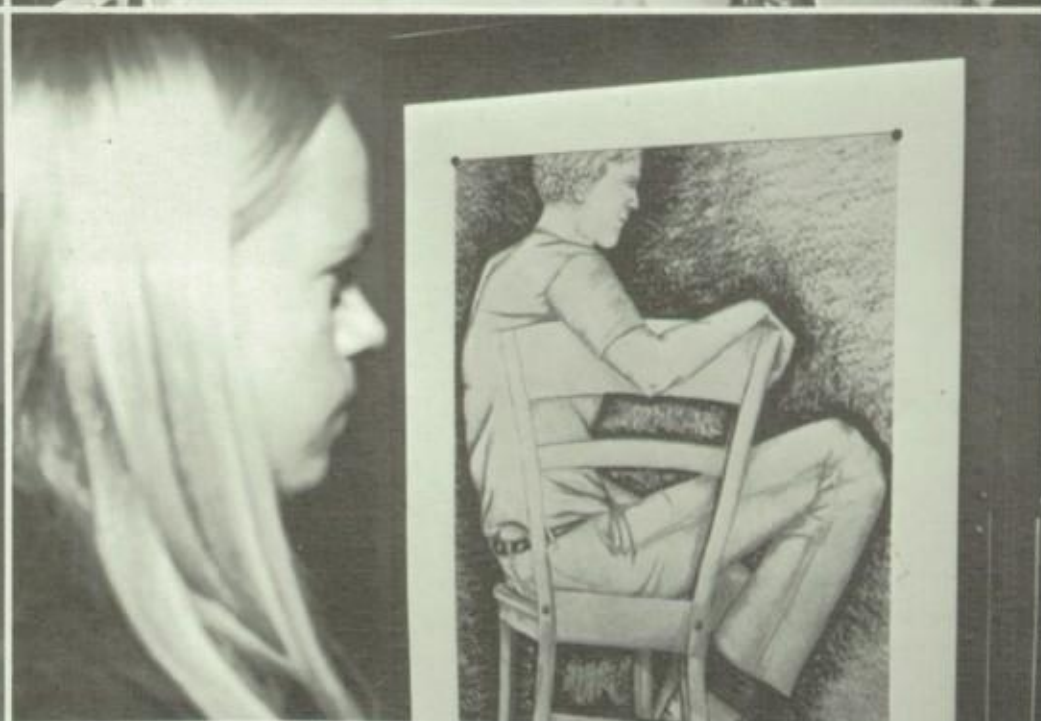

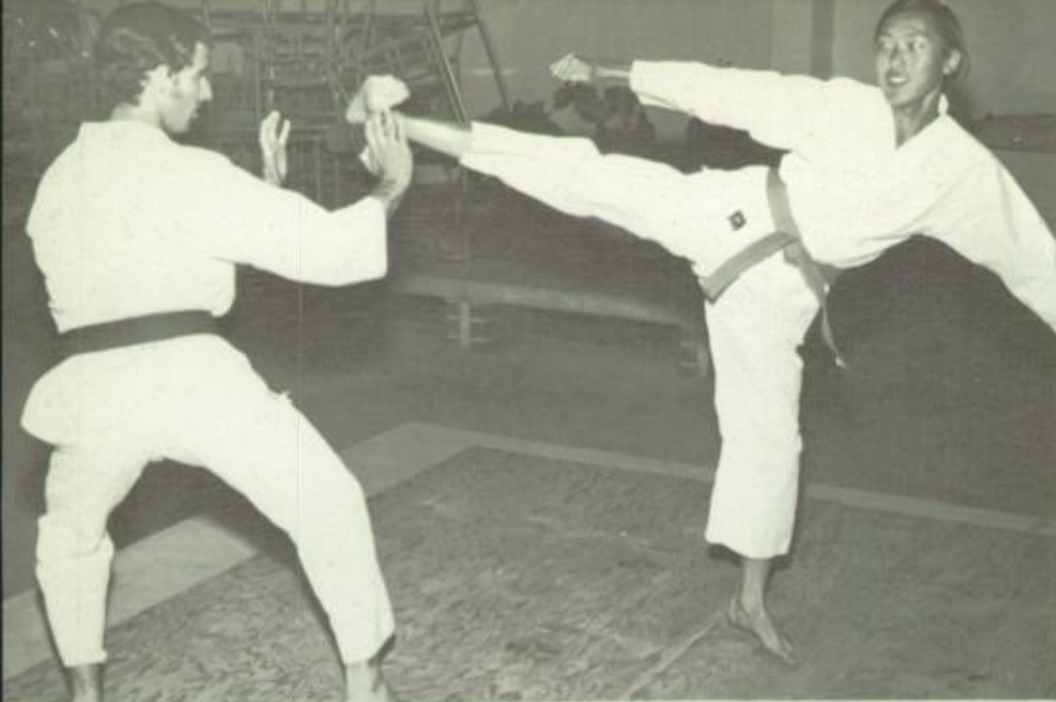

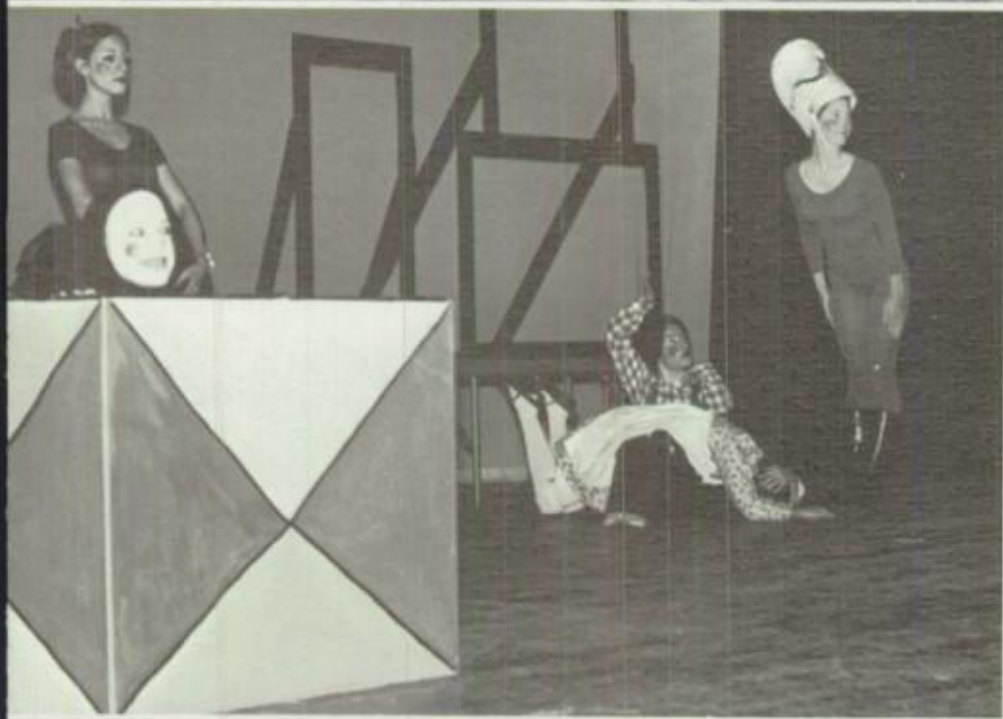

"BELLY UP to the bar boys... better loosen your belts!" bellow the townspeople of Leadville during a rousing night at the bar. Christmas (Brad Smith) carelessly pours a villager (Andy Ludlum) a drink while Molly (Patrice Clark) leads the people in a round of song and dance.

Singing along with the radio is one thing, but performing before an audience is another (as members of the various glee clubs found out).

Madrigals, with the best voices from RHHS, sang at other schools, clubs and concerts as well as at school. Concert Choir, a larger group, participated in many of the same activities. Men's Varsity Choir gave a deep, rich blend of male voices to concerts, while Beginning and Advanced Girls' Glee added a soft, feminine touch to the music.

A new dimension was added to the annual Christmas concert when vocalists performed a Polka to the delight of the audience and sang international folk songs.

STAGE CREW member Marsha Miller waits for her cue backstage at the Christmas concert. The Stage Crew helped with lighting at campus events.

CONCERT CHOIR member Sally Gill sings a Yule solo during Christmas assembly. The concert featured songs for the season.

DANCING to the rhythm of a polka, Troy Garza makes a quick bow to his partner Kathy Campbell. Troy, Kathy and many other couples provided extra entertainment by dancing at the Christmas concert staged by the glee clubs.

Shubert...Lizst...Sousa...alive in the age of acid rock and soul music? The Rolling Hills melody makers kept the immortal music very much alive.

The band entertained us during football half times with its formations and marching medleys, including everybody's favorite classic, "The Stripper." Extra entertainment was provided by the new drum majorette.

Flair was also added to school concerts and assemblies by the dance band. A finishing touch to the music department was the introduction of the newly-formed orchestra at the Christmas concert. The new sound was greeted with enthusiasm from participants and new conductor John McRae.

tion which will be used in a dance routine. Drill team performed at all the football and basketball games this year.

Titanettes Perform with Enthusiasm

 Left, Right
 Left
 shoulders back, smile, head up, toes pointed, knees high, stay in step
 Right Face (1,2,3) . . .
 smile — what's the next step in the routine?
 look calm — watch your neighbor . . .
 oh! so that's what it is Left Face (1,2,3) . . .
 good, I know the rest (I hope)
 About Face (1,2,3) . . .
 Left . . . Left
 Left Relax . . .
 whew! sure glad that's over with (at least until the next game)

"ABOUT FACE!" yells drill team officer Sue Harter. Titanette members had to respond to Sue's command together and in rhythmic time.

Expression Delves Deep into Identities

When you get right down to the nitty-gritty, expression is delving into your identity . . . There was much of that around campus this year.

FOLKSINGERS — Explore your capacities and make them harmonious . . . Emphasize depth with a high note, shallow emptiness with a drawl . . . Stage a hootenanny to exhibit new awareness.

CHOREODANCERS — Improvise human movements . . . Compose a technique conveying your ability to perceive . . . Perform in hopes of reaching wary souls.

FOLKDANCERS — Shuffle as a Romanian . . . Leap as a Greek . . . Stomp as an Israeli . . . Appreciate the contributions of others and benefit from their inspiration.

Music is the art of pleasing . . . It's also a footpath to expression.

"SOUSTA," an ancient Greek dance from island of Crete, is performed by folkdancers Melissa Cowan and Fefi Valari.

Grammar and sentences are not all there is to languages; languages describe nations and their cultures.

"The Foods of France" was the theme of the annual French Club Christmas party, where the members had the opportunity to taste many French delicacies. The club met regularly during the year to hear guest speakers and see films.

Ice-skating, although not natively Spanish, added to the spirited annual Spanish Club Christmas party. Olvera Street gave members a tourists' view of Mexico, while Mrs. Louise Raymond explained Latin America from a resident's point of view.

German films, songs and customs kept German Club busy throughout the year. Members relied upon their knowledge of German to comprehend an assortment of films. Oktoberfest, a traditional autumn celebration, minus the bees, intrigued students with homeland dancing and strudel. The club spiced the Christmas Concert with the German Holiday spirit.

GROUP singing was one of the many activities planned for German Club members. Roger Weeks accompanies the voices of Cindy Taylor and Steve Xenos.

Exchange Bridges Communication Gap

To attain a level of communication — American Field Service hosted a barbecue and wine tasting party.

To promote an understanding among peoples — In January of 1969, Ted Guth left to live in Argentina for a year, and in 1970, Jed Louvier boarded a plane for a year in Australia. In September, RHHS received three AFS students: From Chile, Juan Dellarossa Ambiado; Crete, Fefi Valari; and Yugoslavia, Zelimir Mazura. Also, Tereza Carvalho from Brazil and Eduardo Marconi from Argentina joined us under the Youth for Understanding program.

To attain . . . to promote . . . these were the goals of the American Field Service and Youth for Understanding Clubs.

TED GUTH, AFS exchange student, recalls Argentina while in his native costume. Ted returned to Rolling Hills in January after spending a year in Latin America.

WHILE practicing his typing drills in the teacher's workroom, Eduardo Marconi, YFU exchange student, pauses to daydream about his native land. Eduardo arrived in January from Argentina.

EXPERIMENTING with a molecular scale, Zelimir Mazura calculates the weight of a model styrofoam molecule. A Yugoslavian foreign exchange student, Zelimir found chemistry challenging.

TRYING to master techniques used by Robin Hood and his merry men, YFU exchange student Tereza Carvalho learns to hold a bow and shoot an arrow with help from Mrs. Barbara Hardesty.

FEFI VALARI sings a Greek lullaby and is accompanied by her AFS sister, Sue Helland, on the guitar.

Students Merit Academic Honor

Recognition for your labors, rewards for your results... National Honor Society and California Scholarship Federation fulfilled these purposes.

Finally you were given credit for your efforts in high school. You were in California Scholarship Federation for which students were chosen for superior academic standings. A total of ten points in grades of solid subjects was needed.

National Honor Society chose students on the basis of—Scholarship: Members have shown excellence in subjects at school.

Leadership: Students participated in Student Council and other school activities.

Character: Many students have shown admirable qualities in their personalities.

Service: Members acted as tutors or worked with the underprivileged, or have in some way helped others.

Clubs Provide School, Public With Services

"WHADYA MEAN I have to pay for it?" asks Clark Adams incredulously to popcorn-selling Girls' League members. The sales were traditional Monday events.

Providing services to both the school and community is what Girls' League, Girls' Service Club and Key Club are all about.

Girls' League sponsored the big sister-little sister picnic, the backwards Christmas dance and Buttons 'n Bows. It also staged a toy and food drive and delivered Valentine telegrams.

This year Girls' Service Club gave up money-raising activities and concentrated on its main purpose of helping others. Girls served at programs such as the National Honor Society Induction and Senior Baccalaureate.

Key Club spent its time working to make life a bit better for people by serving a pancake breakfast, with the proceeds going to Vietnam orphans. Members also acted as big brothers to small boys in San Pedro.

Exploration and experience in medicine, education and exotic cuisine were the principle ideas in Medics, Hostess and Future Teachers of America clubs.

Working as teacher assistants and tutors, going on field trips to observe actual teaching methods, and hosting Christmas and Halloween parties were activities of the Future Teachers Club. Highlighting the year was the annual Future Teachers Recruitment Conference held at the Biltmore Hotel.

Exploring various health careers, the Medics Club hosted speakers, visited convalescent homes and hospitals and participated in the annual Health Careers Day at Marymount. Sponsoring a bloodmobile drive with PVHS and holding popcorn sales were once again part of the club's activities.

Sampling foreign dishes during restaurant outings, planning parties and serving refreshments at various school activities were some of the events on the year's agenda of the Hostess Club.

SOUND CREW—KNEELING: Bart Rowlett, Richard Wolfe. STANDING: Jim Olevsky, Richard Thrift, Chip Henderson, Howard Speight.

Students had a chance to display their unique and diverse talents on campus this year through the Art Club, Chess Club and Sound Crew.

Art Club exhibited its talent by offering to put creative touches to posters, program covers and bulletin boards. In the meantime, members visited museums and participated in local art shows.

Chess Club gave members the chance to vent their pent-up frustrations and sharpen their methodical, pondering minds over chess boards. Challenging matches were held weekly.

Sound Crew aided school assemblies and plays with its technical knowhow. The crew was also responsible for waking us out of our lethargic dazes every morning by providing the sounds which filtered through the bulletin.

RACKING his brains, Tim Rentsch masters a difficult problem in a Math Club meeting. Club members competed with other scholars in this area.

A variety of clubs provided a variety of ways for students to communicate to one another. Thespians, Math Club and Scientific Theory and Discussion Club promoted this wave of interaction.

Members of Thespians took part in plays and helped produce them. To broaden their view of the dramatic arts, the club asked the Harlequin Players to perform for them. During the year, the dramatists presented the Children's and Readers' Theater.

Communicating to others through competition was always an exciting part of Math Club. The South Bay Math League sponsored four meets in which Rolling Hills defeated other schools to take home a first place trophy.

Scientific Theory and Discussion Club widened the channel for communication when it sponsored discussions on pollution, the null of gravity fields and the theory of relativity.

Groups Support Blue and Gold

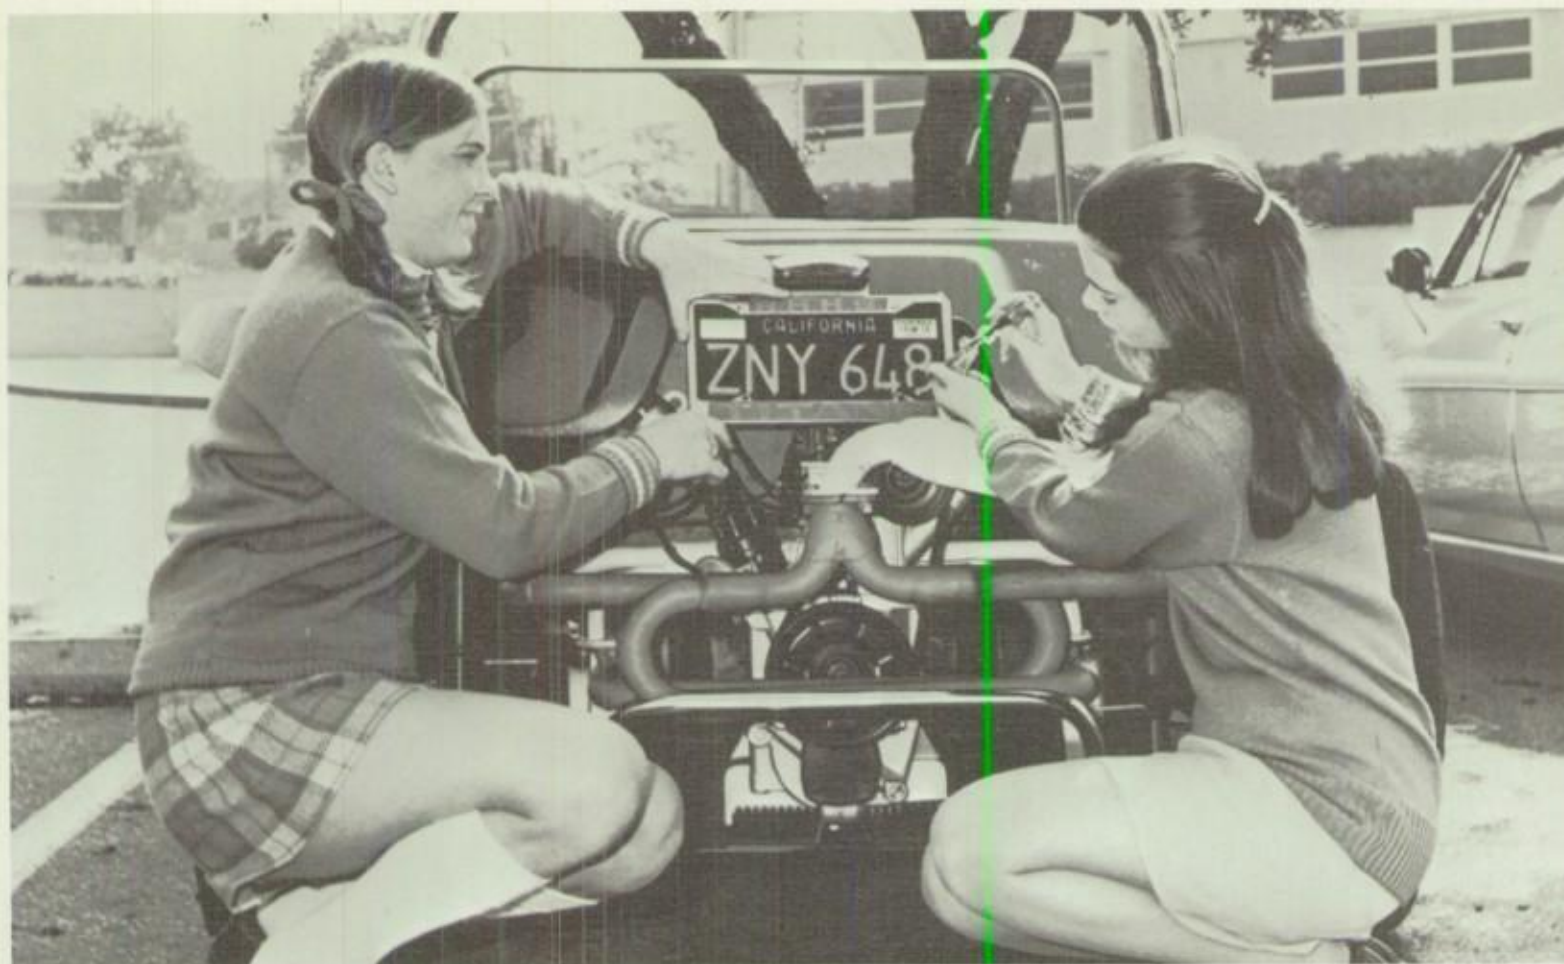

"Step behind the blue and gold" . . . and Lettermen's and Pep Club did. Promoting spirit and supporting athletic events occupied the time of these active club members.

Lettermen's Club, composed of athletes who have lettered in various sports, had its own queen and sponsored an entertainment assembly. Providing supervision at athletic events and other school functions was one feat handled by members, while another feat was the organization of the Boys Athletic Union which sponsored a dance.

Pep Club held a car wash and sold license plates to help finance its activities, while it feverently sold pep tags and pom-poms and painted spirit signs in order to aid the Pep Squad in getting across a message—SPIRIT!

LOOKING through the toys under the tree which Lettermen's club put up and guarded for Girls' League, Bill Barr and Jody Schmitt check what was collected for needy Harbor City families.

DEMONSTRATING their mechanical skills, Pep Club members Sharon McGrath and Jill Janov secure to a dune buggy their first license plate sale. The plates were sold at the student store to raise money for covering the bleachers.

Titanic Efforts Prompt News Awards

DISCUSSING possible stories for the next TITAN issue are advisor Mike Cornner, editor-in-chief Gail Eadie and news editor

Craig Allinder. TITAN put emphasis on community events and published a feature magazine with the bi-weekly newspaper.

EDITORIAL editor Maia Krache discusses with a fellow writer all sides of the topic before writing her editorial.

TYPING feverishly, TITAN sports staffers Dan MacLellan and Joel Konopken attempt to meet the Thursday night deadline.

FINALLY pasted up after long hours of writing and editing is an edition of TITAN, one of many issues that won awards at UCLA.

EDITORS Gail Eadie and Toni Beron discuss the galley of a TITAN special feature story. After a short debate, they decided to cut the copy length and include a picture.

Ahhhh! To be home with a hot dinner, a warm bed and . . . Wake up! It's still Thursday night and the TITAN deadline is two minutes away . . . got to finish pasting-up the pages—more exacto wounds, waxy fingernails and weary eyes . . . this is the way to produce an award-winning weekly, bi-weekly, tri-weekly newspaper?

Well . . . despite frustrating difficulties, such as missing copy and pictures, the staff's titanic spirit held up long enough to publish 16 issues that won special awards at UCLA in photography, feature and news writing, layout and overall category. The TITAN was also awarded the first place trophy for sports writing at Cal. State Los Angeles and was rated "A +" by the National Newspaper Service.

Perhaps the greatest accomplishment was the leasing of a composing machine which cut down cost and centralized production . . . finish your dreams—you just missed the deadline . . .

FROWNING over a layout mix-up in the senior section is Carol Baddeley as she patiently thumbs through pages to solve the problem.

DESPERATELY hoping that an idea will come to her, Suzi Weber stretches back to relax her overworked brain and ponders problems of writing captions.

CONTAINERS of fixer decorate the interior of the darkroom where phots, who amazingly met deadlines, leave clean-up for the next morning.

DILIGENTLY WORKING on an advertising layout, Bill Cinnamon exhibits the precision and skill used by the DELPHIAN staff in meeting close deadlines.

"PERFECTION" says assistant editor Andee Vogel to copy editor Debbie Quon and editor-in-chief Louise O'Dell during one of many midnight sessions.

To plan the unknown that will be immortalized in history . . .
the beginning of our DELPHIAN began with a trip to Visalia in early 1969.

To endure the hardships that the future brought . . .
we scheduled pictures around the rain, we put up with outside interference, and we worked until midnight to write blocks of copy, captions and heads.

And to struggle to preserve uniqueness . . .
we created a book that reflected our moods — new type face, more mosaic layouts and free verse copy.

Self-expression: Path to Immortality

Self-expression found its way onto the campus this year through Satori, Quill and Scroll and the Publications' photography staff.

Requesting ink drawings and literary works was one function of Satori as it prepared to combine students artistic efforts in the magazine, "Satori."

While the inner expressions of some were captured into words, the outer expressions of others were immortalized in photographs. Popping up all over campus were the photogs as they attempted to record the year for the two school publications.

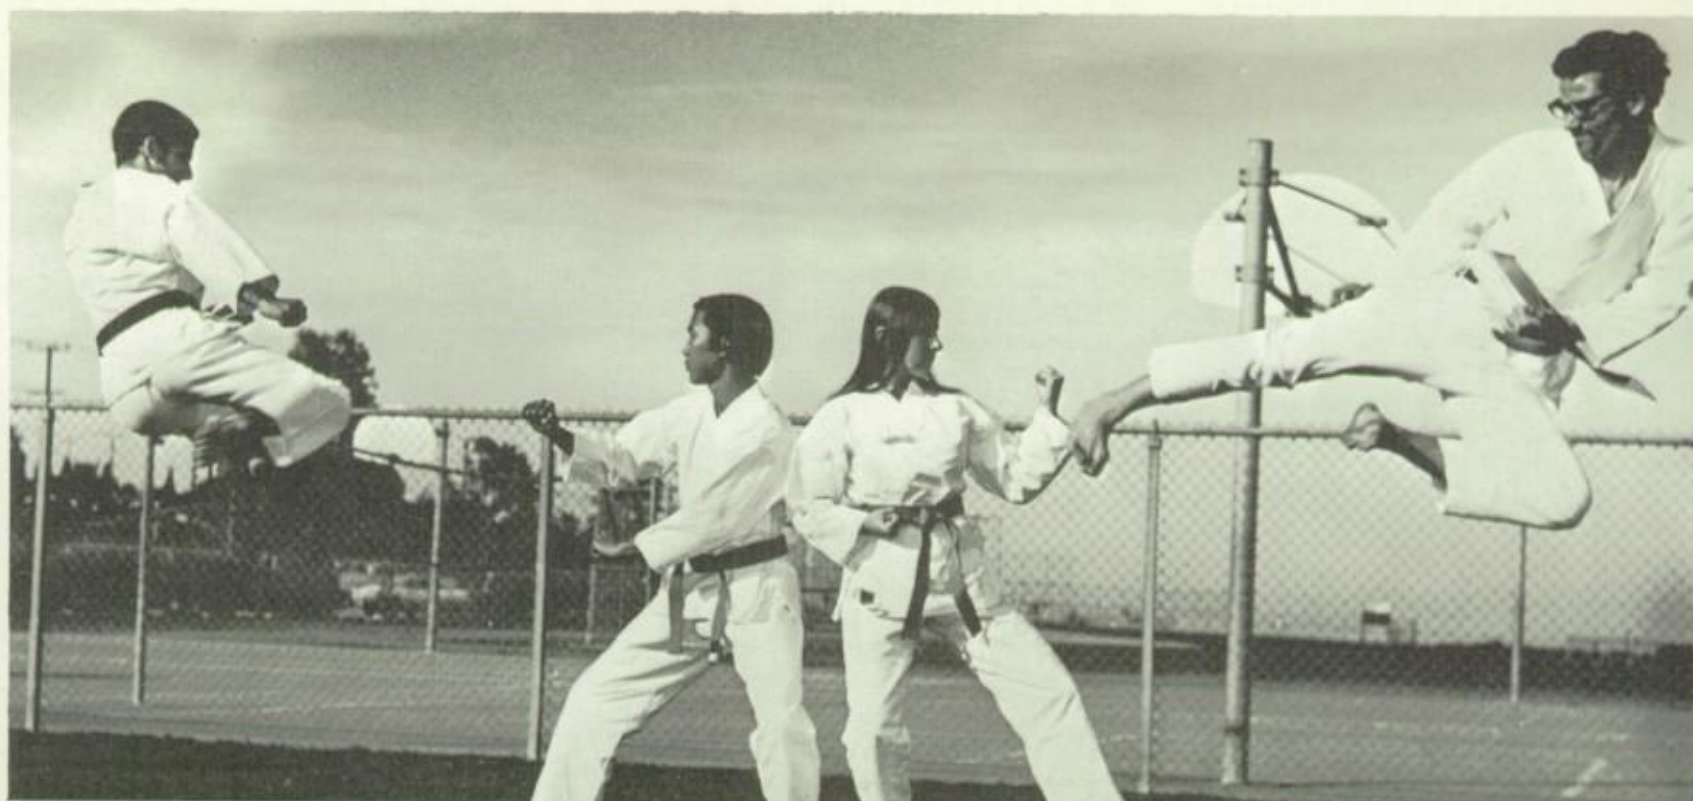

Continuing to recognize the excellent work produced by the newspaper and yearbook was the international honorary society, Quill and Scroll. The main highlight for its members was the presentation of gold pins at the awards assembly.

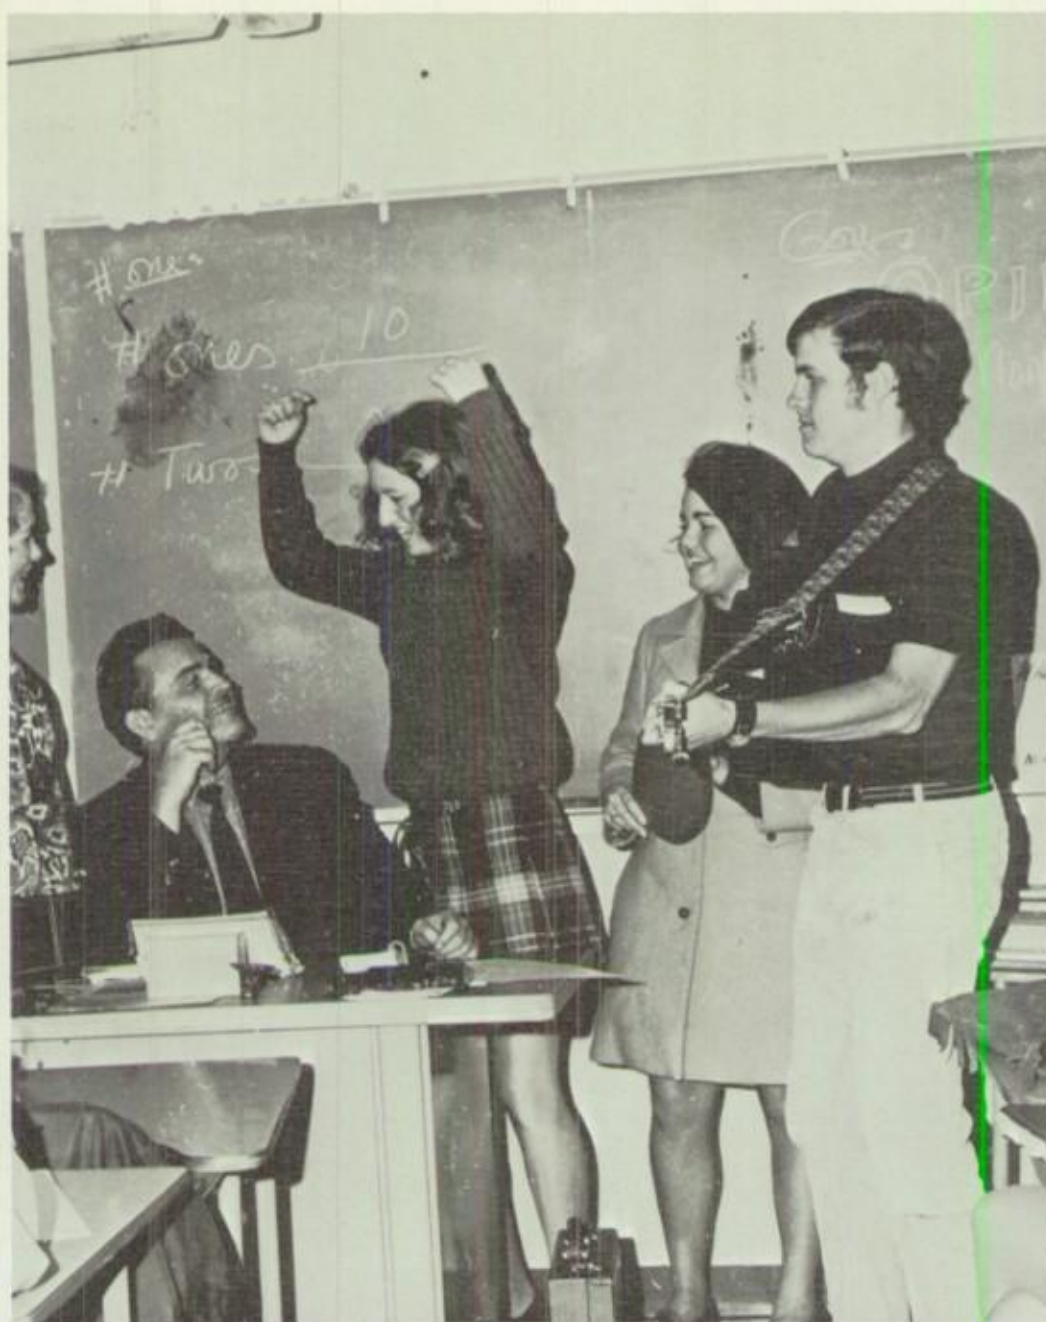

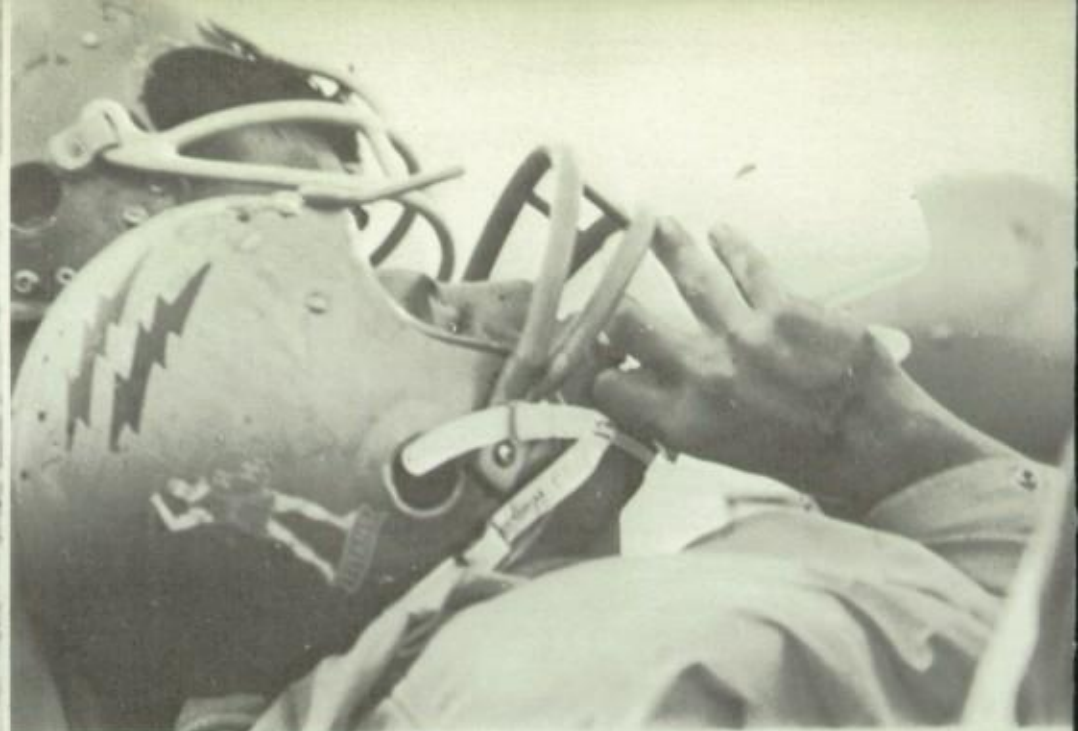

GERRY HIATT, head photographer for the TITAN and DELPHIAN, meditates.

ATHLETICS

SENIOR QUARTERBACK Rene Trevino rolls out to his right and looks for back-up receivers after his primary objective was well covered. Halfback Bill Stamper (41) helps detain the onslaught of Miraleste rushers, giving Trevino enough time to complete pass and give RHHS first down.

FULLBACK BRUCE SWEANY (85) looks into a wall of Foothill linemen. The action took place in the second Rolling Hills CIF play-off game. Leading the blocking is senior guard Ross Catron (50).

THIS YEAR it seemed that nobody could successfully contain Bruce Sweany. Fullback Sweany escapes the last-chance effort of a would-be Hawthorne tackler.

LOWERING HIS HEAD, Titan halfback Bill Blanciak braces himself for the collision ahead. Blanciak led the Varsity in the 40-14 demolishing of Duarte.

Rolling Hills Takes Sky Crown; Ends Season Undefeated

"May I have your ticket number seven?" It's football time again. Undefeated and into Sky League — Monarchs fall at Morningside . . . Leuzinger down 33-6 . . . Halloween night at Culver City . . . Homecoming and the Sea Kings are sunk . . . Torrance and the fog ("It's as bad as the Loara game!"). Undefeated and on to CIF — Fermin Lasuen edged . . . the long drive to Anaheim . . . the even longer drive back home.

Rolling Hills almost began taking victory for granted this year. The Titans went into the season tagged as the Sky League favorite, and, as expected, went to the CIF play-offs. But what few predicted was an undefeated season. The varsity's won-loss record was 4-0 in pre-league games, 5-0 on the season, and 1-1 in CIF. The 10 consecutive victory string is a varsity record.

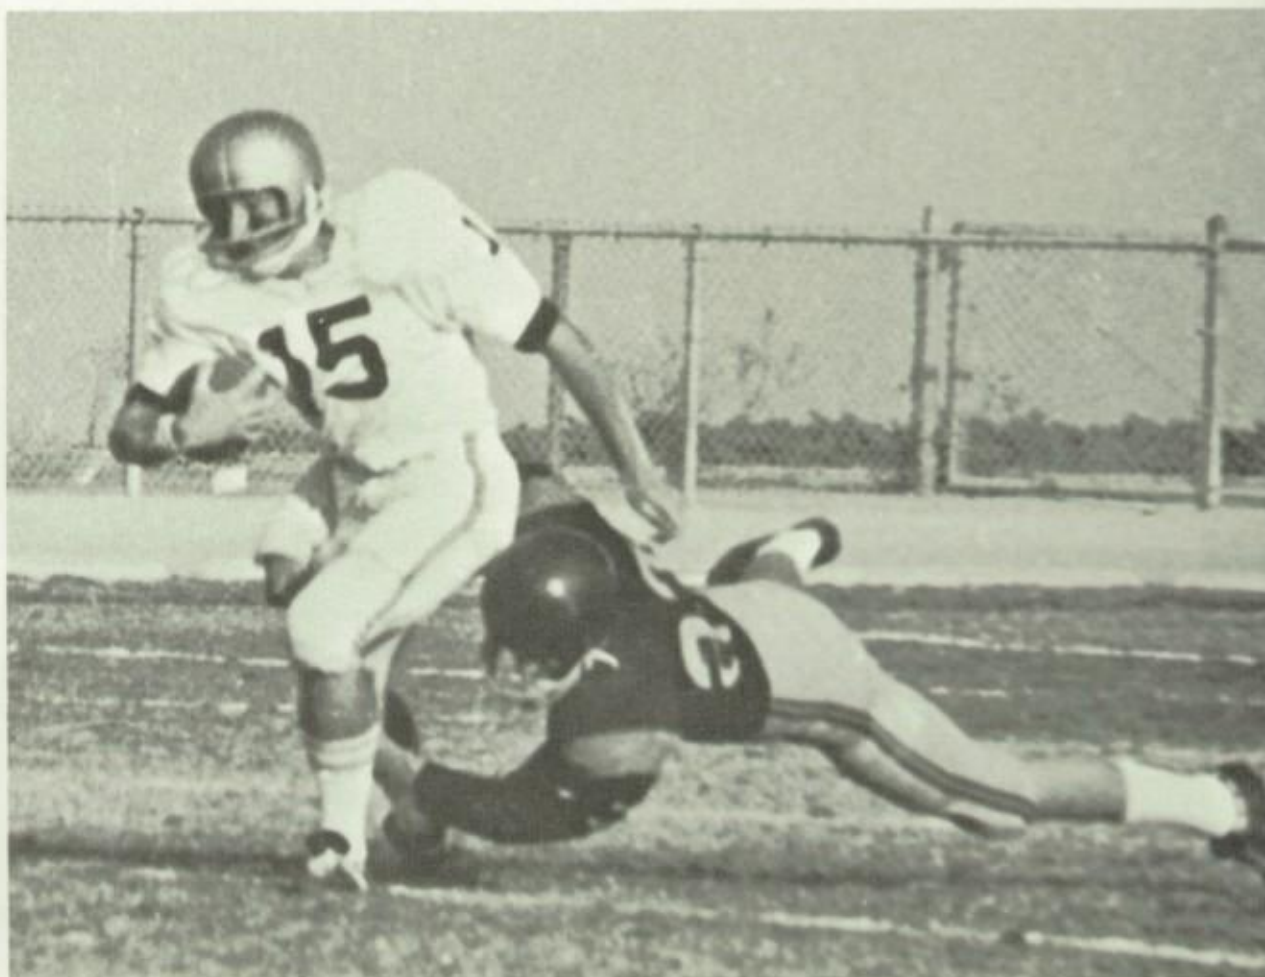

Coach Dwaine Lyon's varsity squad was duly recognized for its efforts: The all-Sky League selections included 11 Titans. Five from Rolling Hills made the all-South Bay teams, which drew players from the entire southern section, including the Pioneer, Bay, Sky and Camino Real Leagues. Ross Catron was selected player of the year in South Bay and made the all-CIF first team. Bruce Sweany also was all-CIF. The Peninsula News named Mr. Dwaine Lyon as Coach of the Year.

With all their rewards and successes, the Titans still look to next year. It would seem that number two in CIF, or even Sky League conquest is enough of a goal. But the greedy Titans want number one.

CIF: An Almost Story for Titans Again

SENDING a booming kick down to the Falcons' three yard line, kicker Gianni Miglia begins the Duarte game.

SQUIRTING OUT of the hands of a Miraleste tackler, Titan quarterback Jim Conti powers his way to mid-field. Conti mixed running and passing plays to beat the Marauders.

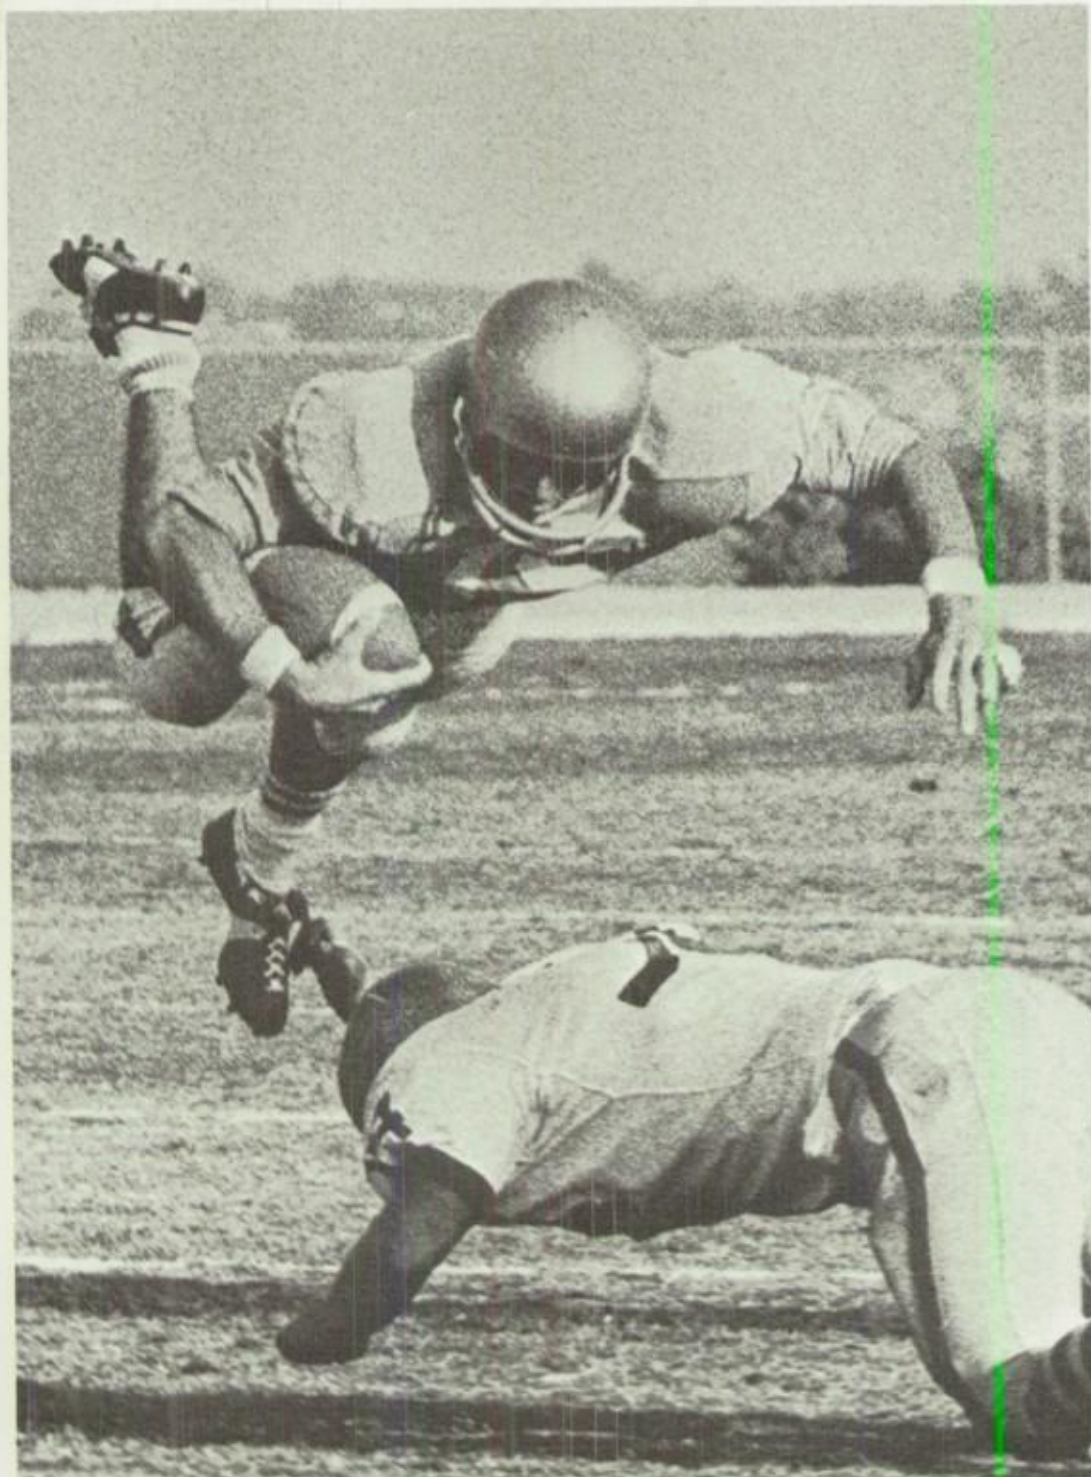

A FAMILIAR SIGHT to opposing linemen this year was number 85, Bruce Sweany, carrying the ball. Following up the play are all-Sky League backs Rick Jacobs (21) and Bill Blanciak (26). Action occurred in Foothill game, which Titans lost partly because Sweany was later injured.

AFTER FAKING a punt, Tom Filchner attempts to run for needed first down yardage. Duarte tacklers thwarted the effort, but Titans were victorious in the game, 40-14.

WITH no regard for his own well being, reckless Jim Conti leaps over a fallen tackler. The "quarterback hurdle" idea was inspired by Joe Kapp of the NFL's Minnesota Vikings.

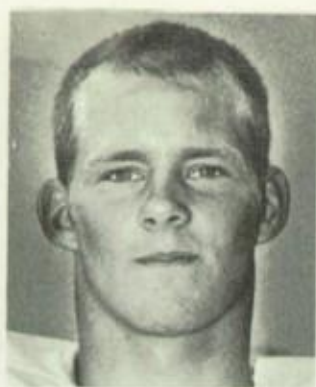

RENE TREVINO nearly picks off an erratically thrown pass by Palos Verdes' QB George Allen, Jr. Defense held PVHS scoreless.

AFTER LEAVING playing field, Palos Verdes News' Coach of the Year Dwaine Lyon contemplates his team's performance.

JV's Finish First for Sixth Year

QUARTERBACK Tom Bondurant looks downfield for an open receiver in the JV shutout against Culver City.

Two losses in six years . . . perennial champions of Sky League . . . Monday afternoon practice for varsity players on the JV's . . . Monday afternoon showdowns for JV's wanting to prove themselves . . . Culver City, the big one, shackled 28-0 . . . Torrance pulls upset . . . two losses in six years.

The JV's finished first again, but this time in a tie with Culver City. They were 4-1 but the loss was not to Culver, as might be expected. Torrance turned in the upset on the final day of the season, scoring 34 to the Titans 17.

Rolling Hills' system of intermixing Varsity and Junior Varsity personnel had much to do with the JV's continued success. A Junior Varsity team with Varsity experience tended to prevail over JV teams with previous experience on only Bee or Cee squads. Up until the final game of the season, the formidable Titan JV's had allowed their opponents an average of less than four points a game, while they themselves were averaging nearly 29 points per contest. It was another rewarding year for the Titans.

Cees Unbeaten; Bees Improve

The Bees became winners again. The season began with two defeats at the hands of Hawthorne and Miraleste, and it looked like a repeat of last year's disappointing last place performance. But coaches Bob Barrow and Walt Bynum wouldn't stand for it, and the Bees won their next two games by wide margins. They ended the season with a 3-2 record and in a tie for second with Morningside.

The average score for Cee's game: Rolling Hills 42, opponent 10—no one was close—or, how the undefeated Cees topped Sky League.

Unbeaten and untied, the Cees were led by coach Bob Pier. With the pre-league games, the Titans had eight consecutive wins. An overpowering offense and an awesome defense gave the Cees its strongest team ever.

OUTDISTANCING two Torrance tacklers, Bee halfback Rob Williams smoothly executes an end run for a big gain. Williams was the Bees' leading ballcarrier with 61 carries for 321 yards.

SHOWING that the job of quarterbacking is more than just glory, Cee Frank Opatrny is hit just after releasing the ball. Opatrny shared QB duties with three others.

Coming to the line . . . straining for that final kick . . . it has to be there . . . somewhere . . . "We have the lead coming up the hill!"

Unfortunately the varsity cross country team could say that only once this year. The meeting with Culver City produced Rolling Hills' only victory. At that race several Titan spikers ran their best times of the year. The Varsity had several younger members, including freshman Jim Gardner. Gardner ran in Frosh-Soph, JV and Varsity competition.

The Junior Varsity squad finished fifth, edging Leuzinger. Coach Jacque Osborn's biggest success was the Frosh-Soph team. It finished fourth, boasting several promising runners for next year.

Inexperience Hinders Cross Country Squads

ASKING ENORMOUS FAVORS of their adrenal glands, Titans Bill Benjamin (47) and Jim Abraham (85) struggle to maintain a lead over rest of pack. At conclusion of two-mile run, three from RHHS were among the top five finishers. Several Titans ran their best times of the year.

A LONG REACH... and goalie Bruce Shimizu gets a hand on a Palos Verdes bid for the goal. Shimizu deflected shot over the goal to keep RHHS in the game.

WHILE KEN AUSTIN (33) screens out a defender, senior Rob Clarke (27) unleashes an unsuccessful shot.

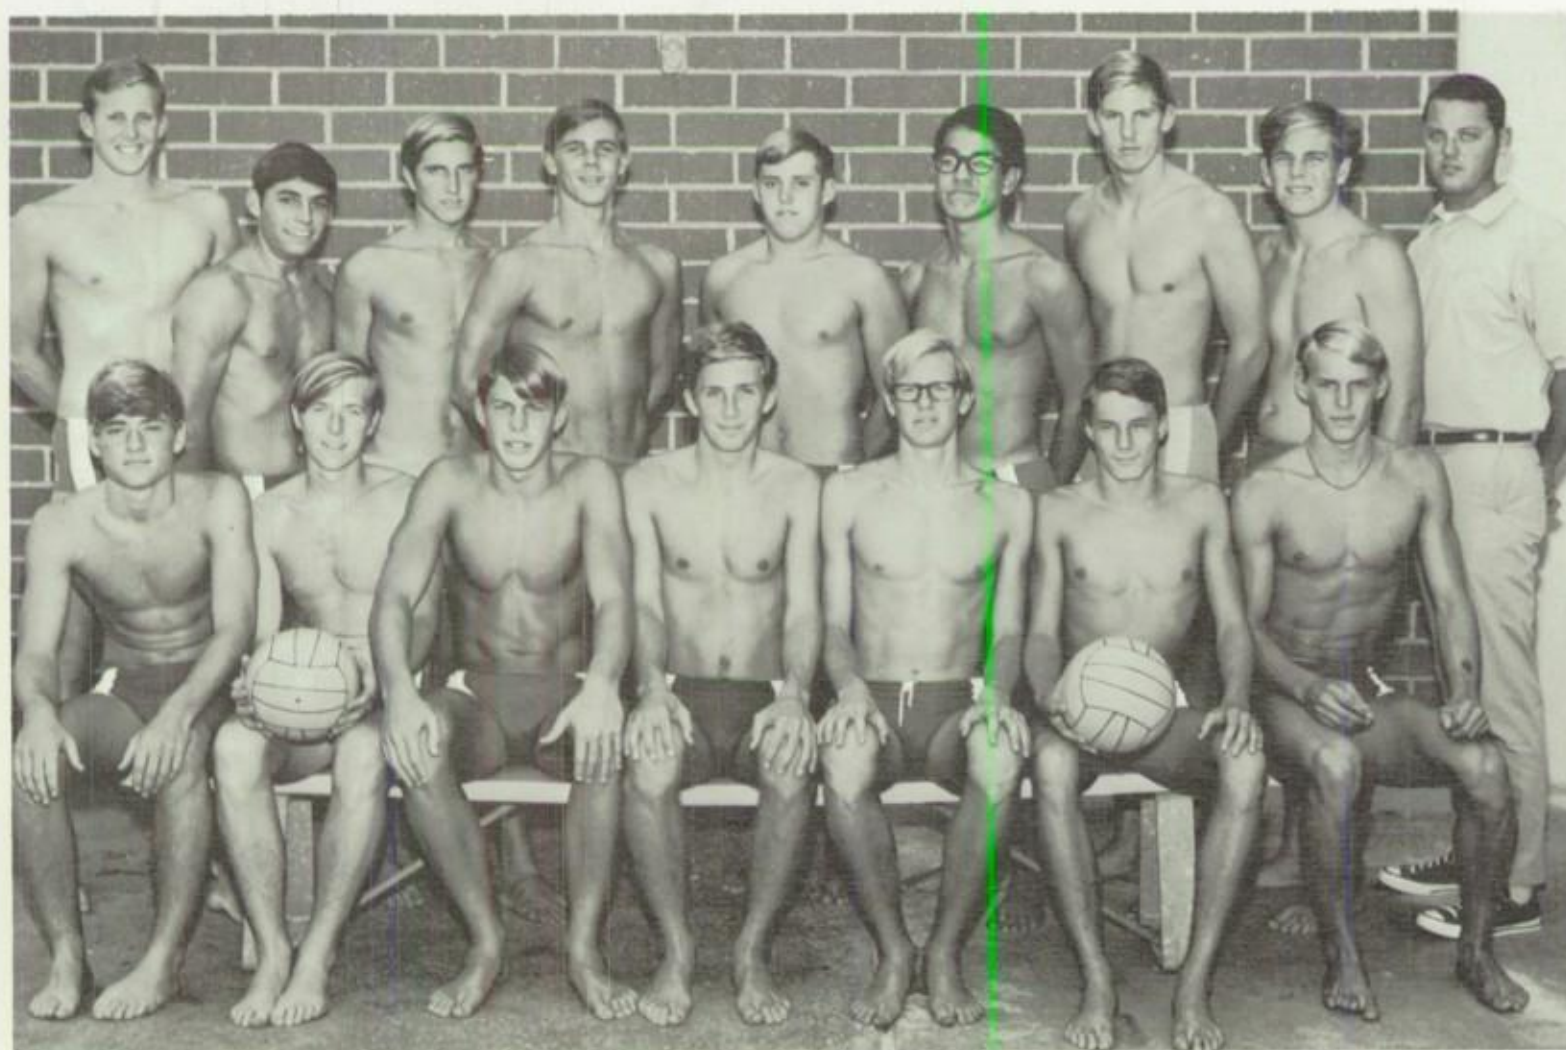

A pass to Clarke all alone . . . a sure goal . . . a season of cold half time talks and almost victories . . . the heartbreaker . . . overtime with Palos Verdes . . . Leuzinger provides Titans with only league victory.

The Varsity level of water polo duplicated its previous year's performance by downing Leuzinger for its only win. But the most exciting point of the season was the clash with Palos Verdes. At the end of regulation time, the score was tied, 10-10. The Titans couldn't pull out a victory though when PVHS scored the deciding goal in overtime.

The Bees were the big story in water polo, going undefeated in Sky League. Although they enjoyed their greatest season, the Bees never embarrassed their opponents. All matches were close and victories were due to a good balance of offense and defense.

The Cees mirrored the Varsity's performance. They finished third with a 1-2 record, their only victory coming over Leuzinger. But the Cees didn't win the close decisions. They lost to Morningside (4-5) and Palos Verdes (6-8).

Finest Season Ever for Titan Cagers

With two CIF-rated teams in Sky League, it seemed that Rolling Hills didn't have a chance. But coach Dan Clayton didn't realize that, and convinced the Titans they were winners.

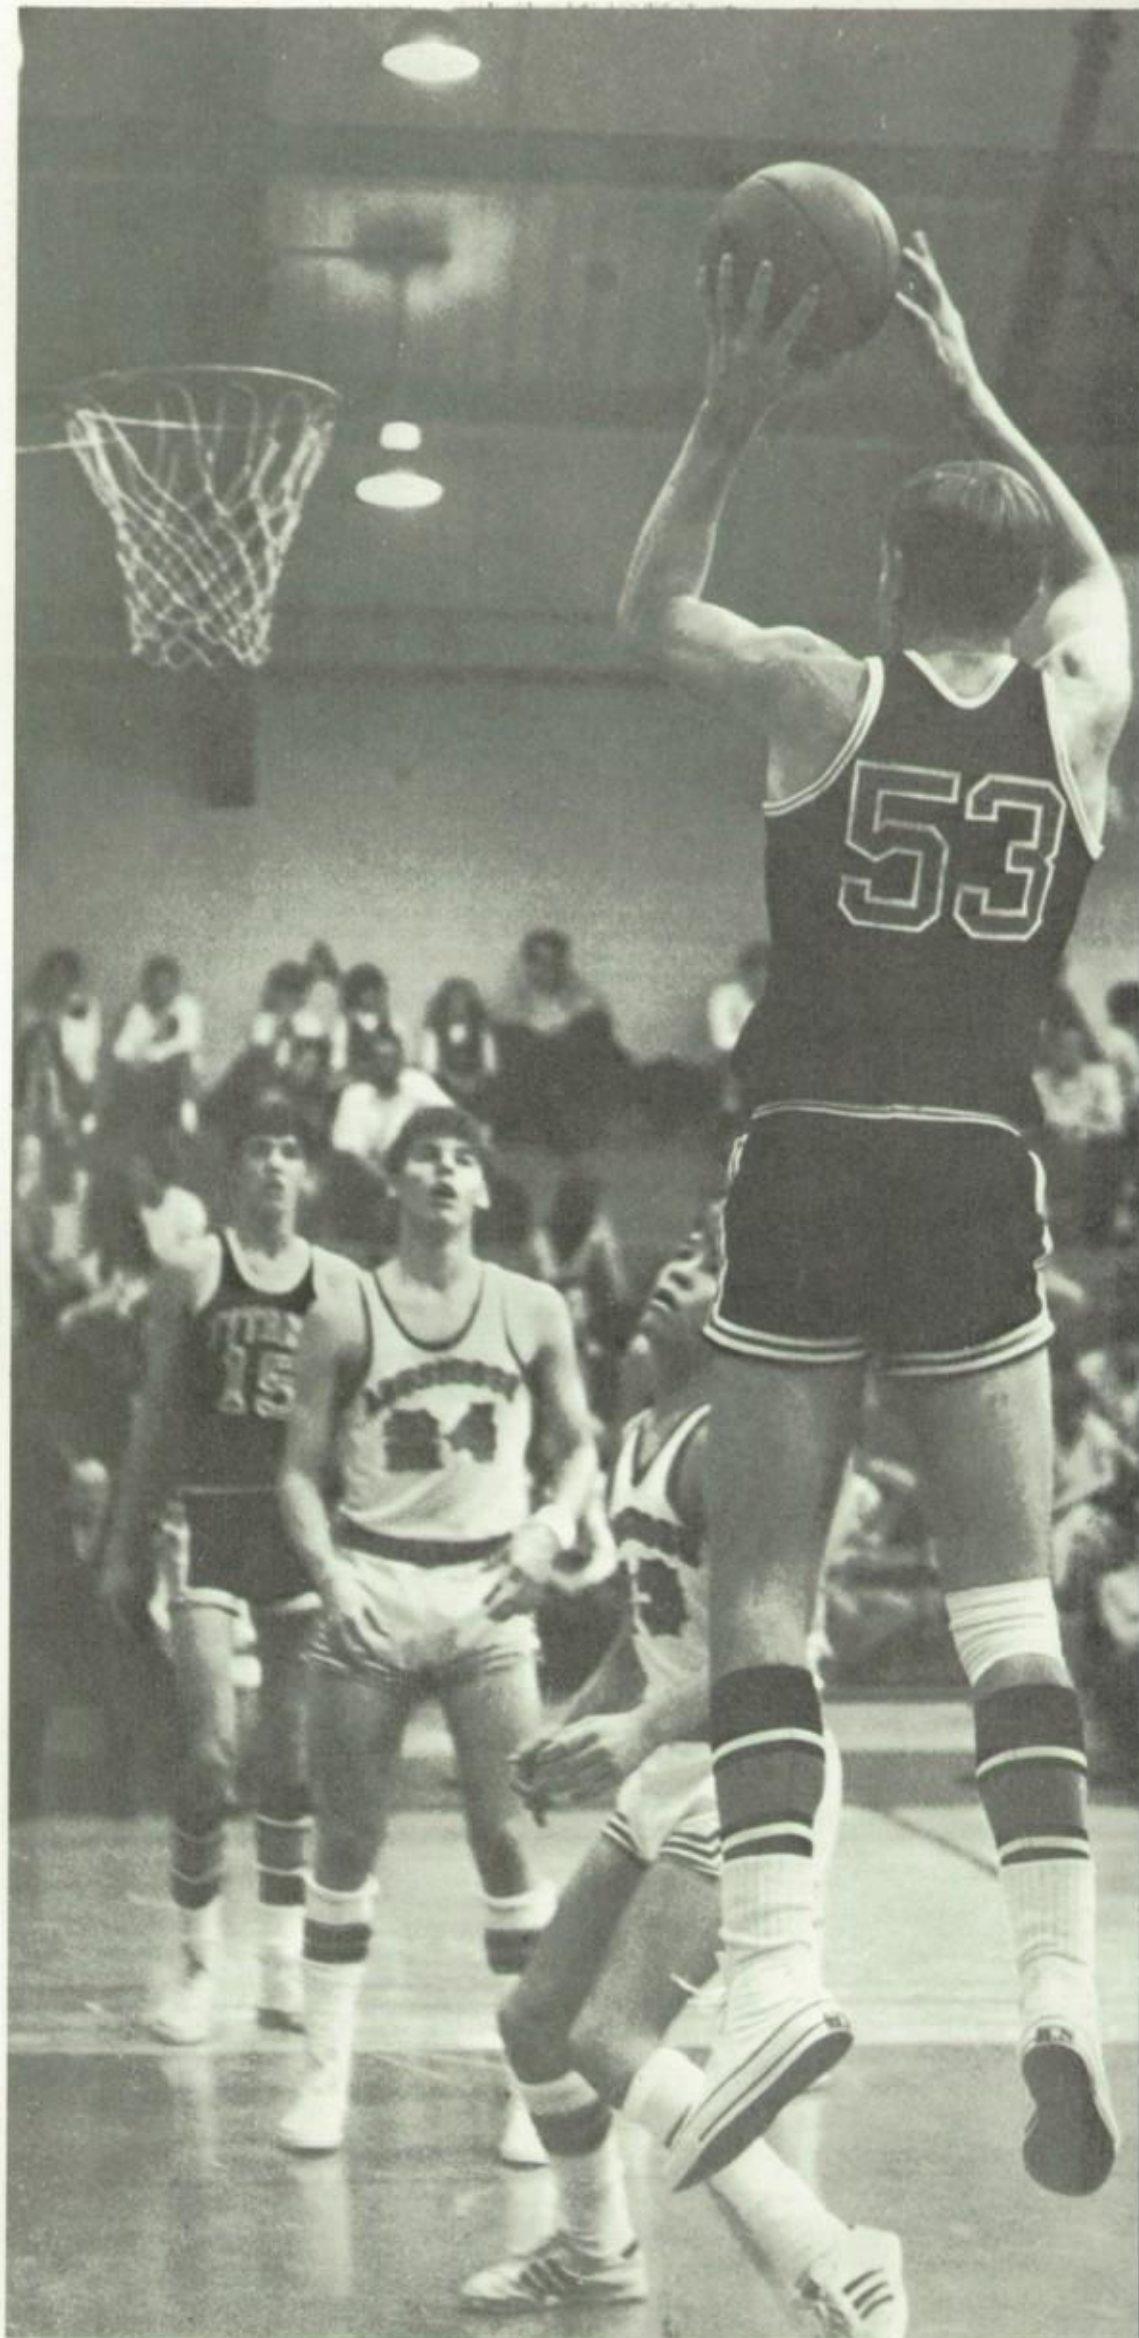

Pat Boyer, Paul Appel, Jim Conti, Steve Nakamoto and Steve Gilburne combined to give Rolling Hills its best basketball team so far.

The Varsity gave CIF-rated Palos Verdes and Morningside their toughest battles of the season. The Titan cagers slashed the Monarchs twice and came within one point of beating the Sea Kings.

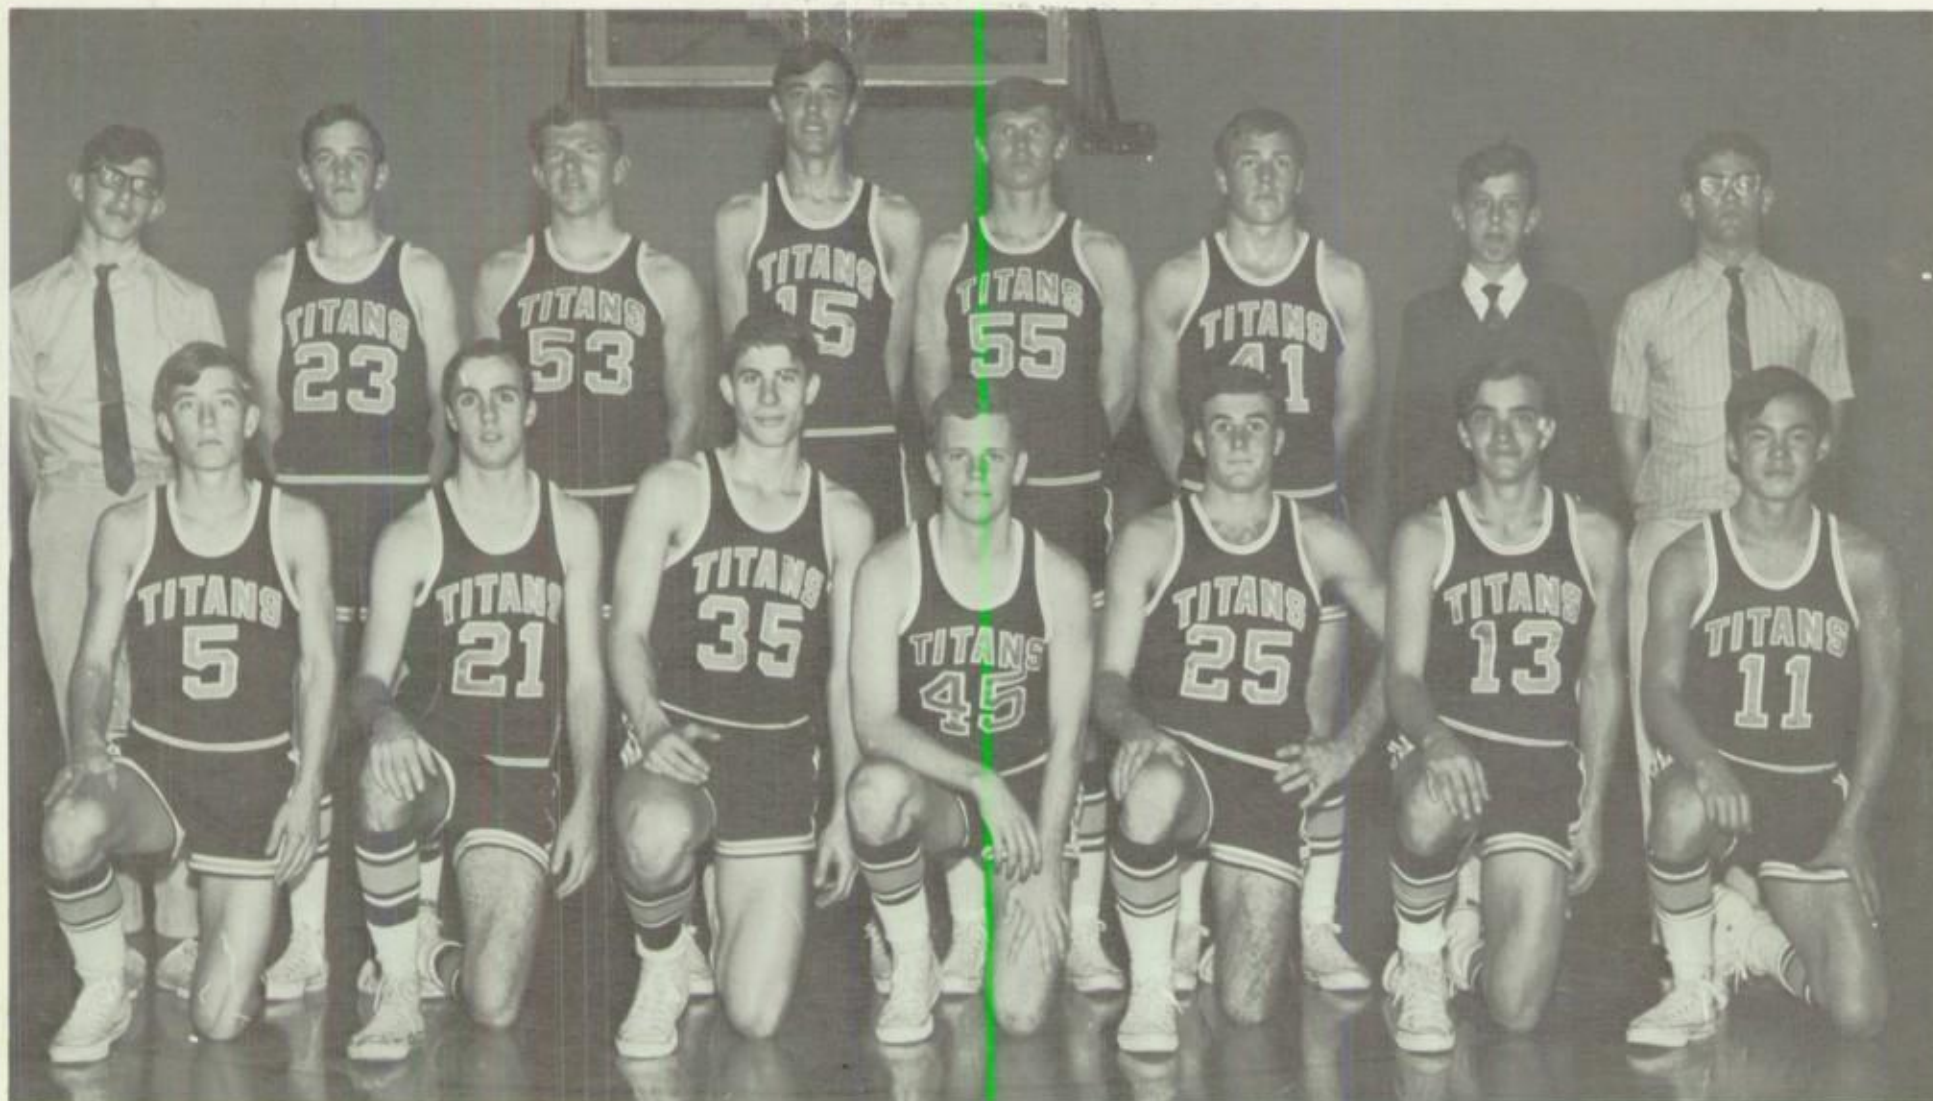

The two losses to Palos Verdes kept Rolling Hills from capturing Sky League title.

"MIGHTY TITAN" Steve Gilburne drives for an easy layup as RHHS romps to its best seasonal win-loss record.

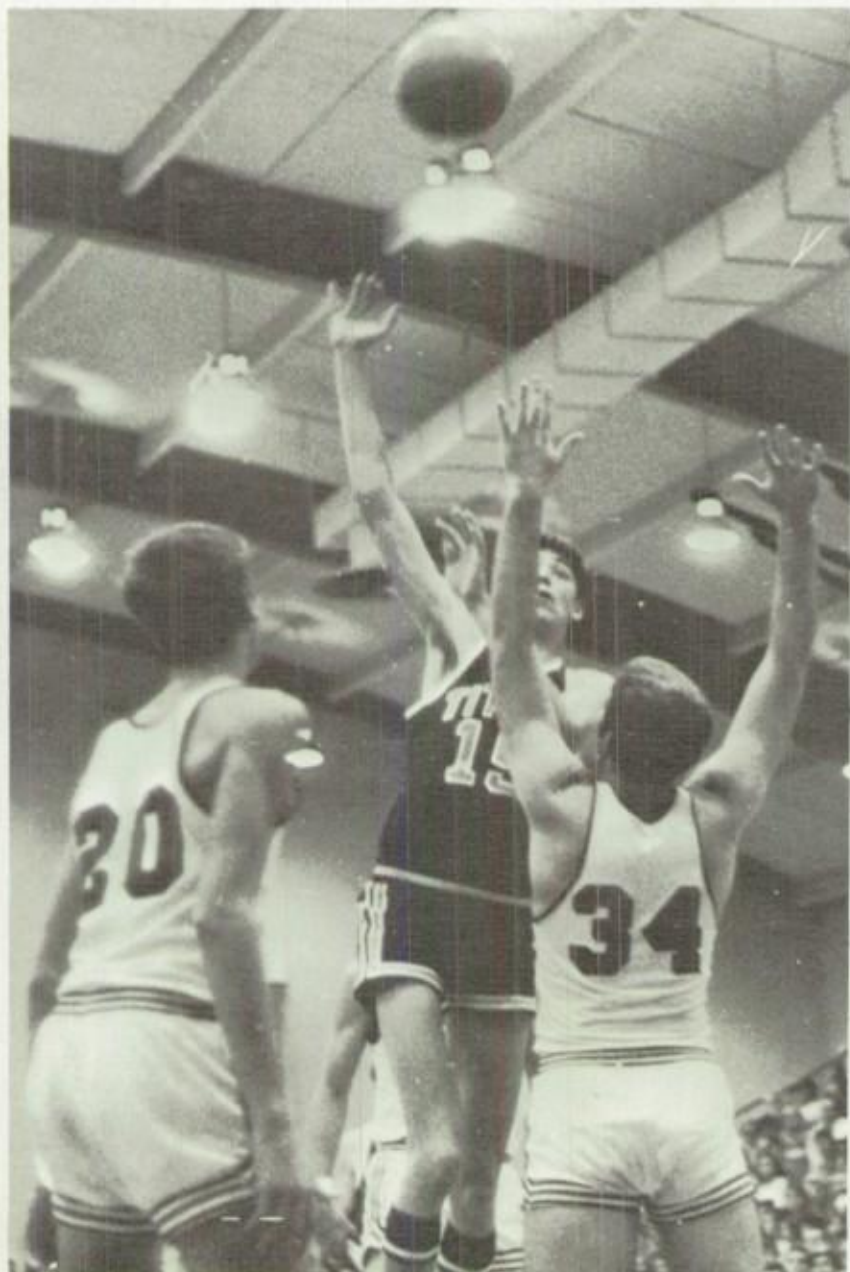

DISPLAYING perfect form, Paul Appel goes up for an arching jumper. A two year starter, Paul helped lead the charged up team to many victories in a tough Sky League.

ROW 2: Joel Konopken (mgr.), Ralph Hawkins, Paul Appel, Pat Boyer, Keith Appel, Dave Ruehlmann, Jeff Kritzer (mgr.), Chris Green (mgr.).

SOARING over two PVHS giants, star center Pat Boyer gets off a hook shot. An all-league selection, Boyer led the team to victories.

RACING past Leuzinger opponents, Tom Swaney scores on a fast break. The fast-moving Titans shut down Leuzinger in one of their easier Sky League wins.

JV's, Bees, Cees Shoot for Stars

The long bus rides and complaints of the unfair workday of a JV basketball player — these were typical of coach William O'Neill's squad this year.

It was a young team preparing for the future. Phil LaFollette, Tom Bondurant and Chuck White were among the regularly playing sophomores. Juniors John Schaus and Tim Rambach filled out the starting five.

The Bees exercised coach Bob Pier's philosophy "pull together" and had one of their greatest seasons. They had strength at every position and weren't dependent on any one man. With the balanced five-man team, they battled to a 6-3 record.

Coach Walt Bynum's Cee team had a fair year, winning about half of its games, as the JV's did. The season's high point came when the Titans beat Palos Verdes by one point in a triple overtime.

TWISTING in mid-air, Ken Austin catches his Leuzinger opponent off guard long enough to take an inside jump shot.

STRAINING to control the tip, JV regular John Schaus leaps for the ball. The JV's almost defeated every team in Sky League play.

CONTROLLING the tip, Russ Keating shows his dominance and sets up a game of ball control. Consistent play made the team a league power.

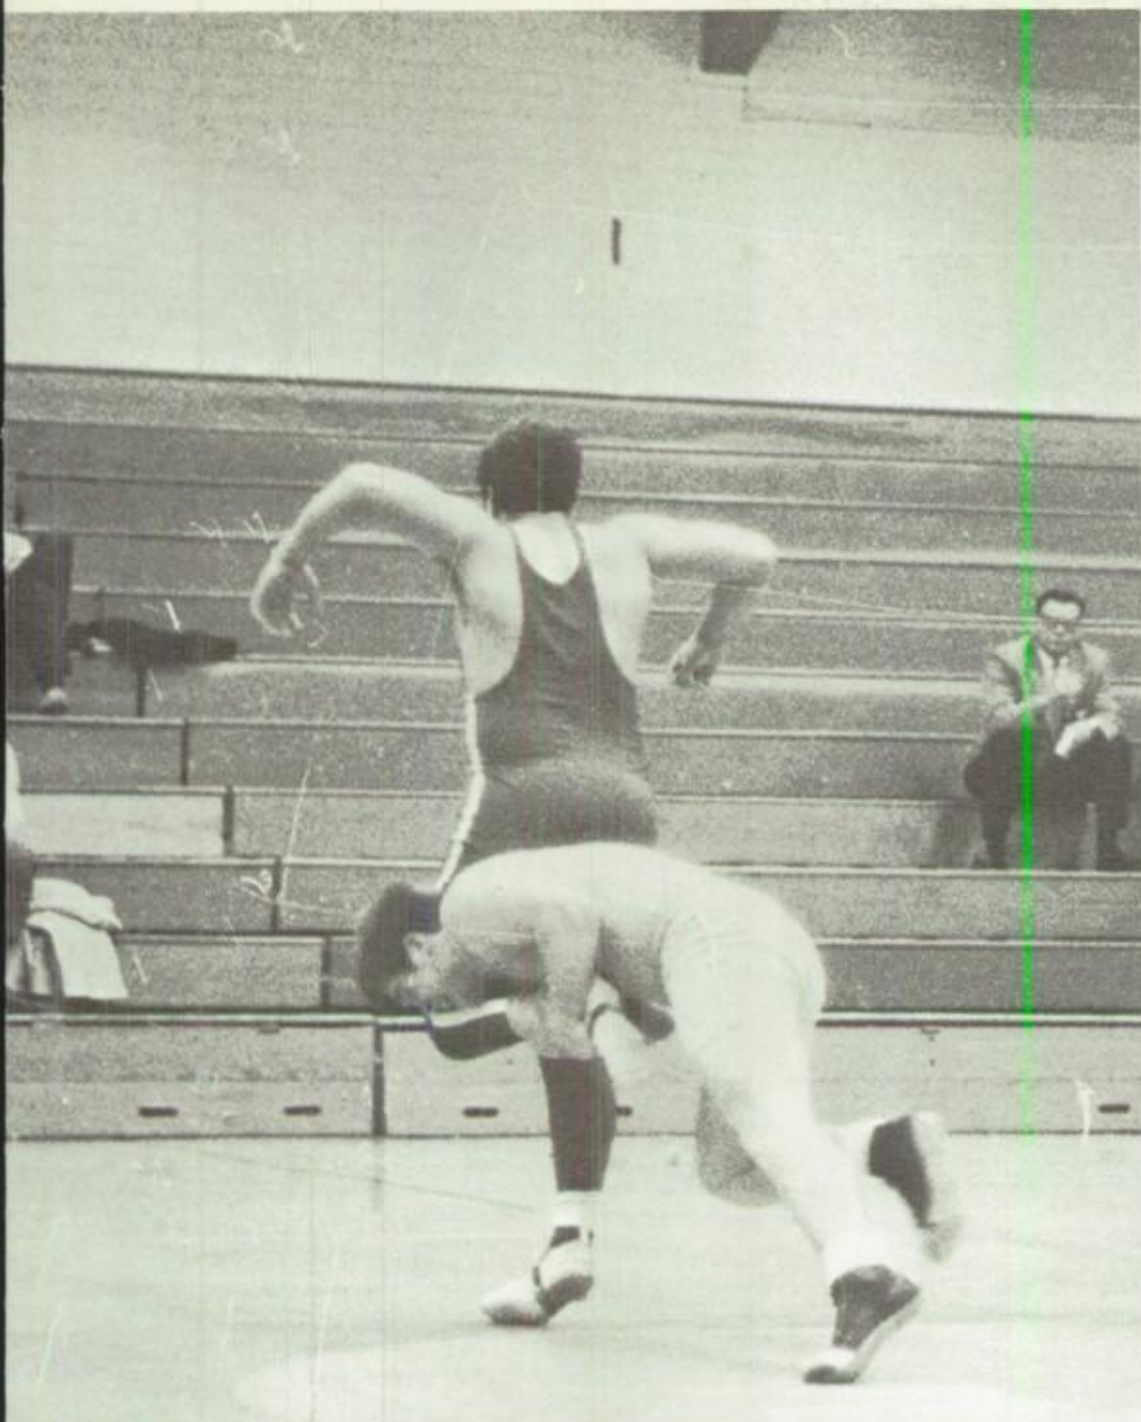

Matmen Almost Manipulate Foes

Rolling Hills wrestlers have never taken Sky League. This year was no exception. The Varsity came close to conquering Palos Verdes, but lost the big decision, as it did the year before.

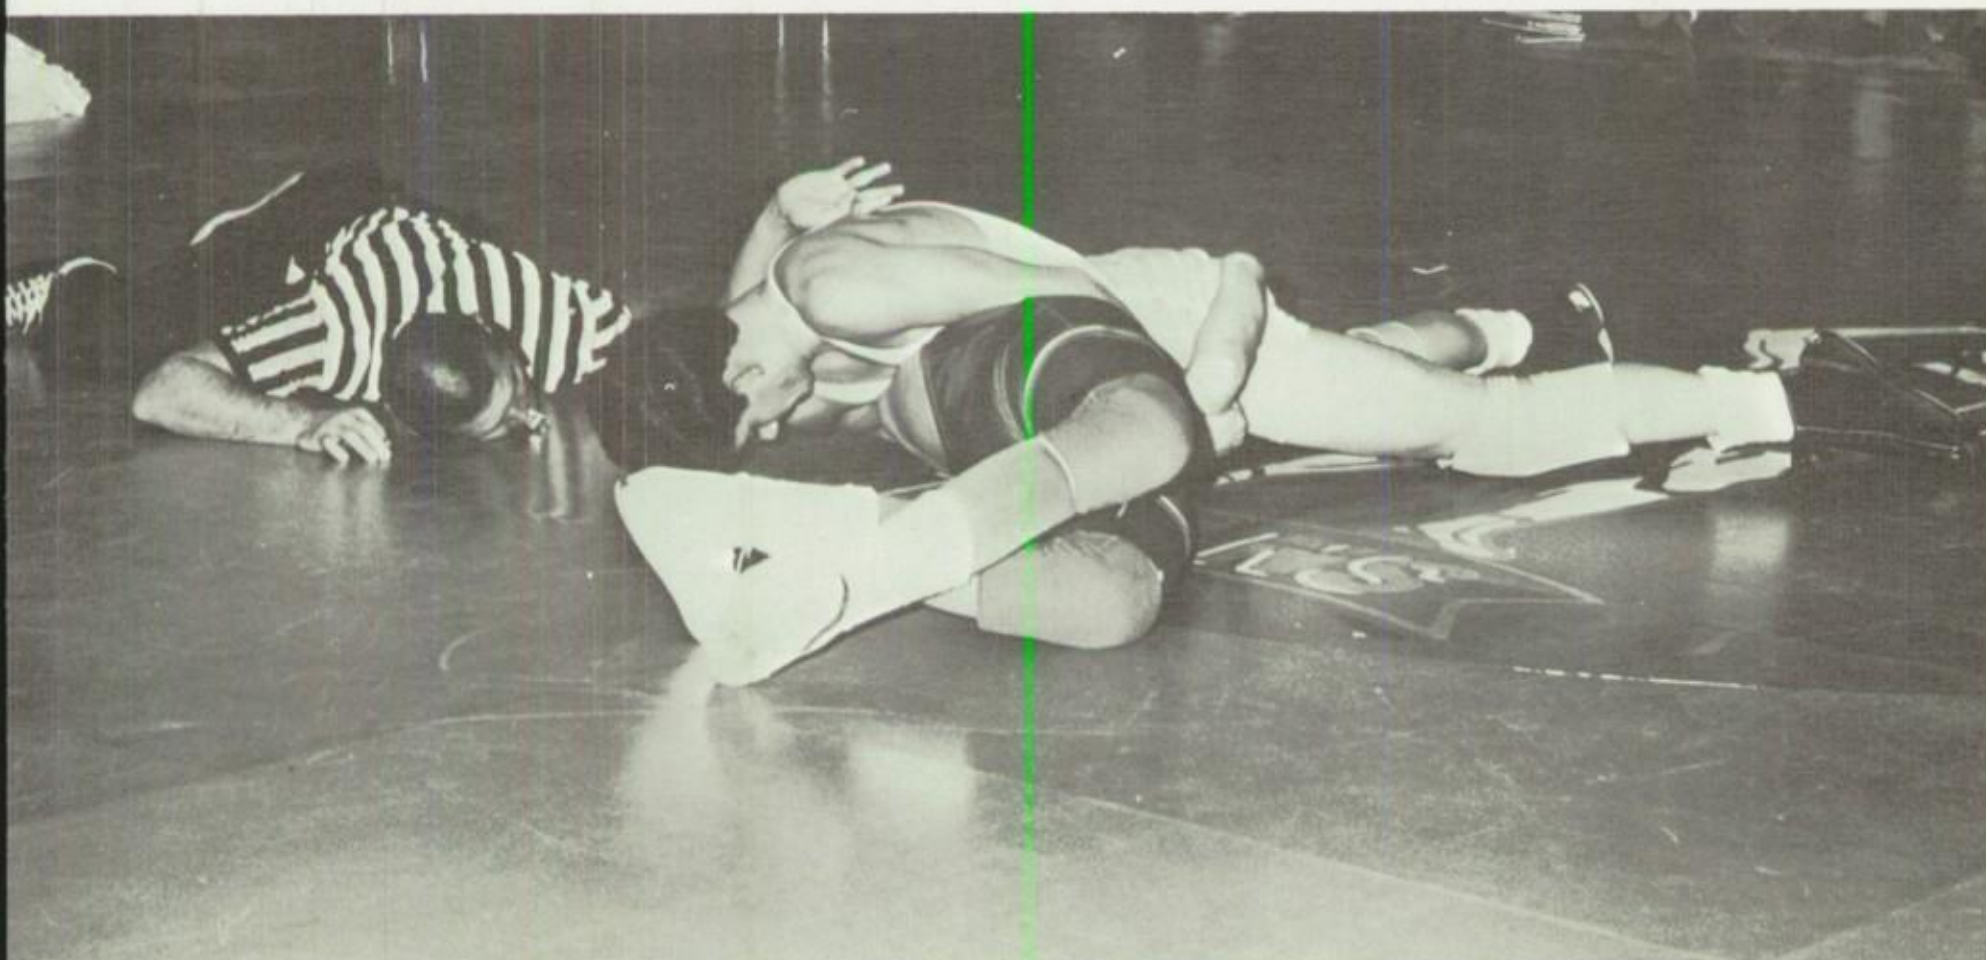

Coach Gary Kimbrell placed his hopes on a team of young wrestlers. Only one senior, Todd Shultz, was on the team. The bulk of the team was comprised of juniors. Sophomore Mark Ensminger was outstanding in the heavyweight division.

If the Titans could have beaten Palos Verdes, the league would have been thrown into a three-way tie for first. But the young, injury-plagued grapplers lost, 15-32.

The Junior Varsity played an abbreviated season and constantly changed personnel. Several matmen wrestled both Varsity and JV, and as a result, the JV's had an inconsistent season. With a strong team for one meet and a disunified one for the next, they finished with a 6-1 league record.

TACKLING his heavyweight foe from Morningside, Mark Ensminger gains control. Only a sophomore, Mark has already proved himself one of the area's better wrestlers.

ROLLING his prey onto his back for a near fall, Varsity wrestler John Beyers shows his dominance. With an outstanding season, coach Gary Kimbrell can expect to go a long way next year. With the squad this year all underclassmen, every wrestler will be returning.

No Holds Barred for Wrestling Team

PLANNING his next move, Varsity grappler Steve Dawson goes for position. The strategy paid off, with Dawson winning this match and placing in league.

EXPERIENCED letterman Fred Gedicks takes a charge quickly in a home match. Only a junior, Fred has already proved himself a valuable starter.

HIS ENERGY EXPENDED, junior Larry Willis ends his gruelling event by reaching the wall first. Willis was one of Titan Varsity's top swimmers.

School records were continuously being broken, but the Titan swimmers found a Sky League title just beyond their reach for the second year in a row. The Varsity took second place in the league finals, but individual performances indicated the season was one of Rolling Hills' best.

Rob Clarke set new school records in the Varsity 200 yard freestyle and the 100 yard butterfly. The Bees and Cees also attacked standing records, with Larry Willis and Tim Murphy leading the way.

The Bee team romped through its first six meets without a loss, then Beverly Hills edged the Titans, 47-45. Following a tie with Hawthorne, the Bees dropped an important meet with Palos Verdes, and finished second in Sky League.

The Cees were the difference between a good year and a great one for coaches Frank Akins and Harvey Crow. The success of the Varsity and Bee teams was almost overshadowed by the eminence of the Cees. Undefeated for eight consecutive meets, they placed sixth out of 81 schools on the CIF relays. The Estancia Invitational Relays saw the Titans place first; the Cees were also first in the Sky League finals.

"INHALE! STROKE! BREATHE!" Freestyler Dale Dyer follows coach Frank Akins' bellowed instructions and manages to hold a slim lead for RHHS Titans.

TITAN SWIM TEAM watches as teammates fight a futile battle against Sky League Champions Palos Verdes. Varsity lost, 62-33.

BUTTERFLY ARTIST Mike Jones heads for the water to start off varsity 200 yard medley relay. Jones' performance in the butterfly qualified him for the CIF finals.

THE LOW SCORER against Leuzinger, Larry Springer tees off on the first hole. Springer shot a 39 to assist Rolling Hills in its 201-208 upset victory over the Olympians.

The golf team had a solid shot at the CIF finals this year, but it all came as a pleasant surprise to coach Jerry Kestenberg. The Titan twosomes were mostly juniors and sophomores, so it figured to be a year of rebuilding.

The RHHS linksmen defeated every opponent at least once. Senior Larry Springer led the team to a late-season upset victory over Palos Verdes, and the Titans' 13-3 record earned the second in Sky League and a CIF berth.

Victory Smiles Few for RHHS Spikers

VARSITY TRACK—FRONT ROW: Mike Adams (mgr.), Paul Friedman, Dave Hoenisch, Mark Sturgeon, Jeff Gardner, Joe Uht, Tim Rogers, Larry Stubben, Stuart Berg, Willy Dellarosa, Harry Lee, Bill Vlahakis, Bill

Stamper. ROW 2: Doug Fladseth, John Pinna, Mark Pankey, Ross Catron, Scott Gordon, Scott Foley, Jim Simon, Tim Odell, Jim Baumann, Chuck Allen, John Felder, Zelimir Mazura.

IN A SEQUENCE of photos, Bill Vlahakis demonstrates technique of pole vaulting that enabled him to vault upwards of 12 feet. All maneuvers must be executed smoothly: speed on approach, placement of pole in the bay, and position of the body. Vlahakis and Bill Stamper vaulted Varsity.

Track...Track and Field...Individuals...High jump, long jump, hurdles, pole vault, shot put, sprints and distance races...a team sport?...Relays.

Sky League was an impossible dream for Rolling Hills, but the season wasn't without its little successes. Bruce Sweany, Tim Rogers and Harry Lee were among the Titans who broke records in their events. Coach Jacque Osborn designated Sweany and pole vaulter Bill Stamper as co-captains of the squad, and the Titans were set for the 1970 season.

Victories came over Miraleste and Leuzinger, and with powerhouses like Morningside and Palos Verdes in Sky League, a victory was an oasis in a desert. The Titans' league record was 1-4. Bruce Sweany was instrumental in the 68-50 crushing of Miraleste by placing first in the 120 high hurdles, the 180 low hurdles, and the shot put.

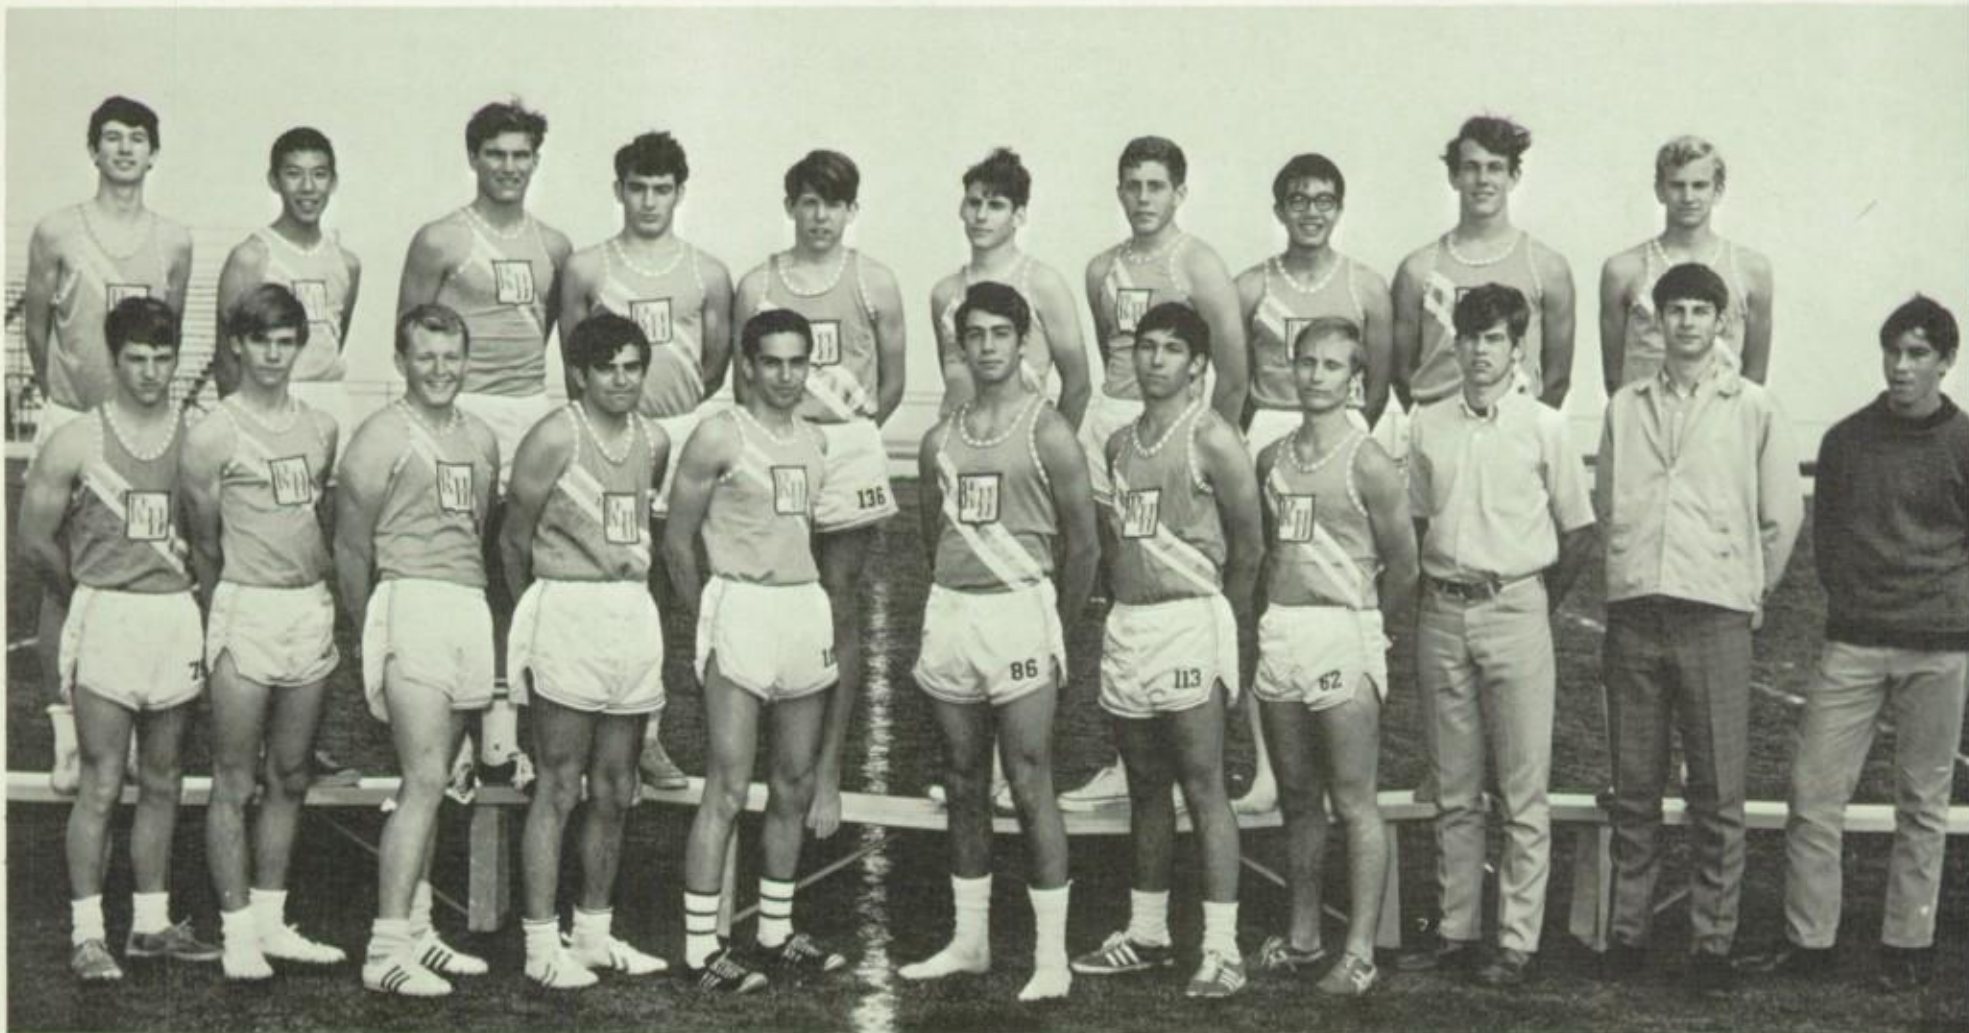

HIS BODY ARCHED around the bar, high jumper Tim Rogers just barely clears 5 foot 11 inches mark, good for a new school record in Bee division.

SEVERING the tape, sophomore Jeff Ullmann barely edges out Beverly Hills runner during 100-yard sprint. Freshman Bill Hanson finished third in event.

WITH A LOUD groan, Bruce Sweany sends the 12-pound shot on its way. Sweany ran the hurdles and consistently put the shot over 50-foot mark.

Robert Tom, Tom Ketchum, Jack Prince, Craig Larson, Mark Larmee, Ed DeCook, Bob Fong, Rick Austin, Tom Sorenson. Absent: Ira Diamond.

A LEGION OF Titan runners follow leader Don White during distance race on Rolling Hills' track. Action occurred in invitational meet in which case Cees places sixth out of 18 schools.

Bright Future In Bees, Cees

The future of track is relatively sound at Rolling Hills. Both the Bee and Cee squads finished second in their leagues, and eight underclassmen qualified for CIF. Counting two Varsity squad members, Rolling Hills had ten qualifiers.

Bill Stamper, usually a Varsity member, took a first in the Bee finals; Harry Lee was second in the long jump, and Tim Rogers and Mark Adair also were second-place qualifiers. Lee also set a new school record at the Rolling Hills Invitational by long jumping 21½ feet.

As with the Bees, only Morningside could edge out the Cees. Paul Freidman (1320-yard) and Don White (660-yard) were the Cee CIF qualifiers, but the relay was the team's strongest point. The 440 team was comprised of Bob Gurell, Jeff Ullmann, Bill Hanson and David Daniels.

IN A CLOUD of dust, Titan Rick Jacobs pulled up safely at third base. Rolling Hills triumphed over the Morningside Monarchs, 9-1. Onlooker yells shouts of encouragement from behind chain link fence.

Titan Nine Looks for Sky Championship

WITH A TOUGH slide, Rick Hilliard takes rival catcher out of play to score a decisive run. Ball sailed to backstop allowing a second Titan to score.

HOT OFF THE BAT of Dennis Ullmann, a stinging line drive zips past ear of opposing pitcher. The ball carried into center field for a single.

OUTFIELDER DARRELL KREITZ drives single into left-center field to set up another tally for Titans. Kreitz was one of few sophomores on Varsity.

When the season began, Coach Mike Gillespie was optimistic but not overconfident. As usual, the contest of Sky League was going to be between Rolling Hills and Palos Verdes. To make things tougher, Culver City also became a strong contender. The stage was set for another photo finish in baseball.

Dennis Emerson and Rene Trevino gave the Titans mound strength, and plate power was supplied by Jim Green and Ken McDonald.

Defensively, Rolling Hills was at its best. Titar pitchers' earned-run-average found considerable comfort in the fielding shows of Larry LaFollette (third base) and Dennis Ullman (center field). In every department Rolling Hills was a stronger team than they were last year.

On May 12, the Titans wrapped up the Sky League championship by beating Culver City, 7-2. In that game, Larry LaFollette suffered a broken ankle, and the injury dampened CIF hopes. But it was a rewarding season for coach Mike Gillespie.

FROSH-SOPH slugger Kerry Renn awaits the 3-2 pitch with intense concentration during the bottom of the eighth inning in Torrance.

JV, Frosh-Soph Find Victory Key

A solid defense, consistent clutch hitting, and better than average pitching—these were the factors that made the JV's a winning baseball team.

Coach Garry Poe kept his renowned tonsils in shape by tongue-lashing his players, the umpires, the fans and anybody else within earshot. But it paid off in one of the Junior Varsity's best seasons to date.

With John Schaus as the team's outstanding pitcher and Phil LaFollette starring at catcher, the team was balanced as a whole. Although they routed Morningside 14-2, most of the games were close, and it was the tight defense that kept the JV's on top approximately 90% of the time.

FROSH-SOPH BASEBALL TEAM—FRONT ROW: Jim Brookes, Steve Gutierrez, Steve McCoy, Mark Arranaga, Kerry Renn, Steve Beyers. ROW 2: Coach Bill Ryan, Andy Mangano, Ron Cole, John Bertrand, Danny Bohn, Mike Adair, Terry Jarvis, Mark Alexander. ROW 3: Victor Alexander, Russ Keating, Skip Eastham, Hugh Carpenter, Jack Spidell, Tom Baumann.

JV SHORTSTOP Mike Risley takes relay from his second baseman, steps on the bag to force runner, and looks to first to see if he still has a possible double play.

SOUTHPAW JOHN SCHAUS fires strike past Morningside batter. Titans beat Monarchs with an explosion of runs, 14-2.

TONGUE-IN-CHEEK, netter Chris Beckett destroys Roger Solow's hope for making first string. Coach Boos held challenge matches to decide starters for upcoming clashes.

"The tennis team should take Sky League this year, but a repeat of our CIF championship will require a tremendous effort," commented tennis coach John Boos when considering his team's possibilities this year. The Titans, usually considered a perennial powerhouse in the sport, had only three returning lettermen. The weight of the 1970 campaign was expected to be on the shoulders of senior Richie Ley, junior Chris Beckett and sophomore Doug Austin.

An early loss to Santa Monica ended a record string of 47 victories. Now the defending champions had their work cut out for them. To gain a CIF berth, Rolling Hills had to defeat Santa Monica and Newport, both strong contenders in season play.

Although suffering defeats at the hands of Palos Verdes and Culver City, the Titans managed to make it to the CIF finals. Winning Sky League was the most important goal, and the netters achieved that. But, as predicted, they fell short of a third consecutive California Interscholastic Federation title.

IDENTITY

The key---to be yourself.

NOW is the time for individuality:

Remembering who you were,

Realizing who you are,

Hoping who you will be.

Importance of experience:

Groups (relating)

Efforts (expressing)

Friends (everlasting)

Together, they are YOU.

Life is so complex, intricate and involved;

You must not lose your IDENTITY.

Thank you staff, photogs, Mrs. Phillips, Mr. Powell---

Without EACH ONE of you . . . there would be no DELPHIAN.

You are truly fantastic people!

My sincerest wish---the success of this book.

Quine:

it has been really fun getting to know you this year.
ever since I have come into your class you have made me feel welcome and I'm so glad I did because I don't see how I could have stood Geometry any how. The times we have detatched together and smuck around in Mrs. Rice's class have been really fun. Remember the Bag of Laughs?
I don't know whose it is? Ha! Ha!

P.E. has been fun, even though we are always competing against each other. I really like our P.E. class and Miss Jaki. I thank you so much for putting up with me this year. Especially listening to me with all my different problems with Gm. I know you're really sick of hearing about him, but, I can't stand to see him wreck himself with her. He used to car about himself, I don't know what happened.

But, try to understand that all my love goes to things outside of home for home for me is a bad science. I love it but sometimes I don't feel love. Please keep it cool and mabe I'll see you this summer friend this year and I hope maybe next

this year.
 I suppose I should stay out
 by saying it's been fun in biology, but I'm going to be different and say I sure haven't really glad I got to know you and I hope
 I'll become a good friend.
 I'll probably see you more often, so think up some things to do in some of the summer because I'll be over to do homework always,
 Love,
 L. J.

Dianne -
It's really been cool
knowing ya this year.
Hope to see you this summer.
You better be here tomorrow be ready for surgery. Have fun those 9 wks. this summer.
Hang in,
SANDY

Diane,
You've really been my right hand gal this past year. I really appreciate all of your labor in the food lab.
Much luck in the future!
Love,
Patricia

Niane,
well, can you believe this year's over already history was the only real drag and it was a real drag. Anyway, it taking ever master the art of taking multiple-choice tests. I'll let you know. Hope you enjoy your summer &
I'll see you next year.
Love,
Cindy

Dear Diane -
It's really been a blast knowing you
this year - (take this sided but maybe we've of it you want). We've be a warrior for at least Deen a really nice, at we've been talking for we've had a rough time we've argued - but all-the mls - under-standings we've cut. Next and a let-handed, tried + true.
a thing before, tried + true.
the summer at camp and
said you new black eye?
I hope you enjoy your summer &
I'll see you next year.
Love,
Cindy

Diane
Well I can't say it has been exciting but I'll say it was fun. I enjoyed having you in my history and P.E. classes. I hope you will someday learn and excel in tennis. And, as far as history goes, we both need lots of luck.
Give me a call this summer and ~~when~~ we can go play tennis. Dr. O'Neil is calling and I must go. Hope to see you this summer and do call. And, must year will be seniors. I can dig

Remember always those crowded 3rd periods - Also, house
remember midnight at my house, your house at midnight, Eve's house after school work on meets in minutes (or was it menus in minutes)
Remember signs the way door bell to shop & have Mrs. Rice good luck at camp. Good luck & have fun always. See you, I hope.

Diane,
Well, we've done it again!
Two years we've known each other, (2 indep. clauses joined by comma & conj.) However, and we're still friends! If you Parent+thetic! expression) If you don't write me at camp we won't be while you're at camp. Well, next year next year. You HEAR!! Well, next year we seemo like only zapping each other Stupid South moves. I hope you have a great P.E. (weren't we idiots) & hope you have a great time this summer, and when you get back to me & will have to get together. Don't forget to write you later (closing in a letter)
OK. Write. See you later (closing in a letter).
Love ya.
Linda

① I came to camp had a really great time & together with you could see you during the summer but of course you'll be in camp most of the time. Hope you really have a great time up in the
